President Asks $4.1 Billion for Foreign Aid

Avoid Cut His Advice To Solons Labels Fund Vital To Protect Free

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $4.175,000,000 in new foreign aid funds to safeguard the free world against the "enormous power bloc of Communist imperialism."

The mutual security program is essential to world progress in freedom, he said in a special message to Congress.

Nearly Billion More

The sum, nearly a billion dollars more than Congress voted last year, would be split up in this way: Two billion dollars for weapons aid to allies and $2,175,000,000 for economic and technical assistance.

In appealing to the legislators to avoid drastic cuts in the program, Eisenhower mentioned his 11-nation December goodwill tour to Asia, the Middle East and Europe.

Points to Travels

"My recent travels impressed upon me even more strongly the fact that free men everywhere look to us, not with envy or malice but with hope and confidence that we will in the future, as in the past, be in the vanguard of those who believe in and will defend the right of the individual to enjoy the fruits of his labor in peace and in freedom," he said.

Eisenhower said that without the billions in foreign aid voted by Congress in the past 14 years, "the map of the world would be vastly different today because of communism's continuing threat."

Menace Still Remains

The Soviet Union expressed an interest in measures to reduce the dangers of war during the past year, Eisenhower said.

"While its recent department and pronouncements suggest the possible opening of a somewhat less strained period in our relationships, the menace of Communist imperialism nevertheless still remains," he added.

The military power of the Soviet Union continues to grow. Increasingly important to free-world interests is the rate of growth of both military and economic power in Communist China.

"Evidence that this enormous bloc remains dedicated to the extension of Communist control over all people everywhere is found in Tibet, the Taiwan Straits, in Laos and along the Indian border."

Earlier This Year

Eisenhower's foreign aid message came earlier than usual this year. The shift represents an administration effort to get the program through Congress before it is caught in the pre-election jam just before summer adjournment. The figures had already come out in the President's budget message last month.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will lead a parade of administration leaders who will testify for the bill. His appearance is scheduled for Wednesday morning before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Three New Features

Eisenhower's foreign aid request, covering the year beginning July 1, included these three new features:

1. More economic and technical assistance for South Asia, including India and Pakistan.
2. An unspecified amount as the American contribution to a big fund the World Bank and other free countries are setting up to promote a settlement of the India-Pakistan quarrel over the waters of the Indus River basin.
3. A new special assistance fund of 20 million dollars to finance an education and training program.

Hercules Firm Is Reducing Force By 32 on Friday

N. L. McLeod, Works Manager of Hercules Powder Company's Port Ewen Plant, announced today that 32 employees will be furloughed on Friday. This furlough, the first in 17 months, is necessary due to the completion of several contracts.

There is a possibility that an additional reduction in personnel may be necessary within the next few weeks. Management expressed the hope that additional business in the spring will enable the furloughed employees to be recalled.

At the present time there are approximately 640 employees at the Hercules plant.

Will Report On Planning Data Feb. 29

Progress in surveys made by Raymond and May Associates, of Pleasantville, toward local city planning and urban renewal will be reviewed at a special city planning board meeting Feb. 29, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today.

The board, at a meeting Monday night, elected Elmore C. Yallum, of 79 Highland Avenue, its chairman. He succeeds John A. McCullough, of 98 Spring Street, who recently resigned after many years of service.

Has 3 More Years

Yallum was named to the board to succeed J. Ellis Briggs, of 306 Pearl Street, when the latter resigned in June, 1955. The new chairman had recently been reappointed to the board by Mayor Radel for a three-year term.

Edwin L. Davey, of 105 Wilson Avenue, also recently named a member of the board, attended his first meeting. Other members of the board are City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, and John R. Shults, 20 Presidents Place.

Alderman Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward, Common Council minority leader, attend the board's meeting in an advisory capacity.

Site Downtown

Raymond and May Associates was authorized last year to prepare a city plan. They gave a first report to the Common Council late in the year and indicated that first plans will deal with an area between lower Broadway and Hasbrouck Avenue.

Applications have been made for both federal and state financial assistance in a project which is expected to cost more than $5,000,000. The city will be permitted to contribute its share in land or in such facilities as street, water and sewer facilities.

Disability Extension Seen Bad Would Be Costly To Small Firms

Proposed further extension of the State Disability Benefits Law should be studied very carefully. So recommends the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Extension of this law, says the Chamber of Commerce, would further increase the cost of doing business and make it still more difficult for small businessmen to stay in business. This trend has already reduced the number of jobs available. The cost and complexity of doing business is becoming an increasingly serious burden. The Chamber of Commerce believes the trend should be halted and perhaps reversed.

Chamber Sees Danger

It may seem like a minor item, but if the two Senate introductory bills 279 and 1607 and Assembly A. I. 719 are enacted into law, the Chamber of Commerce contends, another burden would be placed on the small businessman. These bills would extend coverage to employers of one or more persons.

The bills mentioned, if passed by the legislature, would increase the costs of doing business for many employers in New York State. These increased costs would fall between the limits of 20 cents to 75 cents, depending on percentage of female employees per $100 of payroll. At present, the upper limit varies from 80 cents to $1.25, again depending on percentage of female employees per $100 of payroll. The actual weekly wages of employees would determine where in the range the costs would fall.

Would Push Employers

One bill, S. I. 1539, has been introduced which would require the employer to pay the entire cost of the Disability Benefits program. This would add from 30 cents to 50 cents per $100 of (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

School Aid Gains Ground Over Tax Relief for State

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—School aid is ahead of tax relief among rank-and-file legislators faced with an election-year choice and a multi-million-dollar cash surplus to back up their decision. The lawmakers now figure a substantial boost in state aid to education would be more welcome to voters than a token tax cut. Republican sources reported today.

Two Before Lawmakers

Two school-aid plans are before the Legislature. One is Republican Gov. Rockefeller's proposal for a 25-million-dollar increase in the next school year. The other is Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino's plan for a 70-million-dollar increase.

Firemen Ask More On Force Talk to Aldermen On 42-Hour Week

Lack of candidates for civil service tests for fire department appointments in the past decade, the long work week and occupational hazards were emphasized by firemen Monday night in their bid at Central Fire Station before a Common Council committee for a 42-hour week.

The delegation from the Union Fire Fighters Association, Local 461, AFL-CIO also held that the local fire department is "grossly undermanned" and asked for a work week that would be more commensurate with that served by members of other city departments.

The meeting resulted from a unanimous Common Council adoption Feb. 2 of a resolution by Alderman Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, asking for the session. The council's laws and rules committee with majority and minority leaders added, met with the firemen.

On 56 Hours Now

Local paid firemen, it was noted, now work a 56-hour week, while members of the public works, water and police departments are on a 40-hour week. The hours put in by firemen, they stressed, include working on such holidays as Christmas and Thanksgiving.

They also emphasized that department members "are required to work in cases of emergencies involving major conflagrations, even though they may not be on duty, and are not reimbursed with time off or time and a half pay for these overtime hours." The work week sought, they claimed, would "more clearly align the fire department with (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Brown Found Guilty in 2 Auto Deaths

A Dutchess County trial jury Monday night convicted a 26-year-old former Amenia man of charges of drunken driving and criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle resulting in the death of two Ulster County residents.

William Francis Brown will be sentenced by County Judge John R. Schwartz at Poughkeepsie on Friday, March 4 at 10 a. m. Victims of the fatal highway collision, which occurred on Route 22 north of Amenia, last Aug. 15, were Mrs. John F. Brady Sr., of Wawarsing, and her 11-month-old granddaughter, Carol Ann Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Brady Jr., of Kerhonkson.

Found Guilty as Charged

The case went to the jury at 5:06 p. m. and the verdict of "guilty as charged" in the indictment was reported to Judge Schwartz at 8:22 p. m. The jurors had returned to the courtroom at 8:09 p. m. for three minutes of instruction by the court and the verdict was reached 10 minutes later.

Brown, who authorities charged was driving a car with one headlight operating at the time of the collision, took the witness stand in his own defense Monday morning. He testified that he didn't remember anything from just shortly before the collision until he awoke in the hospital at Sharon, Conn., the next day.

Admits Drinking

Brown testified he had been drinking beer in one tavern at Hudson, where he went with his wife and children the afternoon of the fatal crash. He further testified that he had beers and highballs in another Hudson tavern before leaving for home with his family. He also testified he had beer after supper with neighbors at the Ivan Schylyuk farm, Ghenet, where he was employed, and later at Amenia.

Examiner Prepares to Make Recommendations on Gas Sale

WASHINGTON (AP)—Examiner Howell Purdee began today to prepare recommendations to the Federal Power Commission in the long and bitter battle over competing bids to supply natural gas to part of Northern New York.

New York State Natural Gas Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., in final briefs filed Monday, maintained that Lloyd Dietrich, commission attorney, erred in favoring St. Lawrence Gas Co. Inc., of Ogdensburg, N. Y., to serve the Massena-Ogdensburg area.

New York Natural asked to sell natural gas to the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. of Syracuse, N. Y., for resale in the area. New York Natural charged that Dietrich used a double standard in his recommendation.

"Anyone objectively applying the same standards of public interest to the record in this proceeding could not come to the conclusions and recommendations of staff counsel," its attorneys said. St. Lawrence Gas, which would import natural gas from Canada, said in a reply brief that it was "better designed to meet the public interest" than New York Natural.

The briefs were the last documents scheduled to be filed in the hearing on the two rival applications.

Dietrich recommended three weeks ago that the commission (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Bills to Streamline State Are Introduced

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Twenty sections of Gov. Rockefeller's wide-ranging plan to reorganize the state government, devoid of mention of the controversial recommendations on the office of comptroller, were introduced in the Legislature today.

The bills would implement the first steps of the Republican governor's program, the first major attempt to streamline state government in 33 years. The study committee that made the recommendations to Rockefeller also raised the possibility of abolishing the posts of attorney general and comptroller as elective offices.

Comptroller Arthur Levitt, only Democrat now holding statewide executive office, has bitterly attacked the plan as politically motivated.

The bills call for realignment of several agencies. No mention was made of the offices of comptroller or attorney general.

Rockefeller has estimated that the 65 proposals in the study committee plan would save the state millions of dollars each year.

Fewer than 1,000 state employees would be eliminated, he said. The study committee, in its report last December, recommended reducing from 104 to 41 the number of executive agencies in the state.

Rockefeller withheld from the legislative package a proposal to create a division of youth in the executive department, a recommendation from his task force on youth and juvenile delinquency.

The governor said Monday night the bills were "intended to reduce the multiplicity of agencies, eliminate overlap and duplication of services, reduce overhead costs (Continued on Page 6, Col. 8)

Saugerties Board Favors C.A. Lynch Equipment Plans

Saugerties Village Board Monday night approved the specifications for the new C. A. Lynch fire truck and firehouse, and authorized the advertisement of bids to be opened at a board meeting March 21 at 8 p. m. in the village clerk's office.

The expenditure of $35,000 for the new facilities was approved by public referendum on November 24. The general specifications call for a pumper truck with a capacity of 750-gallon per-minute pump, 500-gallon booster tank, two booster reels of hose of 200 feet each, at a cost not to exceed $25,000.

$747,500 Claims Filed On Land for Road Use

Nearly three-quarters of a million dollars in law suits against the State of New York were filed Monday afternoon by Attorney Louis A. DiDonna, former assistant attorney general, who is now engaged in private practice of law in the City of Kingston.

The eight claims against the State totaling $747,500, were filed in the Court of Claims and arise out of the state's taking of various parcels of land in Ulster and Delaware Counties for highway construction and reconstruction of Routes 28 and 17.

Seven of the claims involve property in Ulster County and one is a Delaware County property owner. Claimants in Ulster County are Theresa Roberts, Louis W. Kahl and wife, Barbara, Richard Singer and wife, Herta, Charles Rosendorf, Edwin L. France, Raymond Mountains, Inc., and a claim made jointly by Daniel J. James G., and Mary S. Donahue.

The Delaware claim is filed by Charles J. Kobles and wife, Maude, for lands taken for Route 17 and 30, Delaware County.

Some of the state's takings involved total takings of business properties while others were partial takings of business and residential properties.

The claims will be heard by a judge of the Court of Claims, who will evaluate all of the evidence submitted and render an award. The Court of Claims is the only court in New York State in which the state can be sued for a money judgment.

Property owners whose properties are taken by the State of New York for any state purpose are entitled to sue the state for fair and adequate compensation. Although the sovereign state has the right under the principal of Eminent Domain to take property without the landowners' consent, the landowners have the constitutional protection which guarantees that the landowner must receive fair and adequate compensation.

DiDonna was until recently an assistant attorney general of the State of New York, assigned to the Bureau of Litigation and Claims and had for the past few years been representing the (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

Small Son Fair Today At Hospital Other Boy, 3, Is Treated, Released

A 25-year-old Malden mother was fatally injured and her two small sons were hurt at 4:50 p. m., Monday when the 1958 convertible she was driving was struck by a New York Central locomotive on a private crossing off Old King's Highway, Town of Saugerties.

Mrs. Darlene Cody, wife of Calvin Cody, operator of a coal and grain company at Malden, died at Kingston Hospital at 4:20 a. m., today, of severe head injuries and possible internal injuries, according to Trooper David Wachtel, of Lake Katrine, who investigated the tragedy with Troopers Charles Teelon of the BCI and Charles Bundshuh.

Mrs. Cody's son, Martin, 19 months, suffered cuts of the chin and right hand. His condition at Kingston Hospital was described as fair. Another son, William, 3, was treated and released.

Returning From Visit

Trooper Wachtel said Mrs. Cody and her sons had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Newkirk, Malden, during the afternoon, and they were returning home at the time of the fatal accident.

The crew on the New York Central 87-car freight train which was running between Weehauken, N. J. to Selkirk, comprised, Engineer Frank Barry, 66, of Dumont, N. J.; Conductor William Fullington, 66, North Bergen, N. J., and Fireman Arnold Ainsworth, 55, also of North Bergen.

Trooper Wachtel said it is difficult for a motorist to see the private crossing on the road leading to the Newkirk home between Mt. Marion and Saugerties, until a person is almost on the tracks because of a curve.

Pushed Against Pole

Wachtel said the investigation showed that Mrs. Cody drove the convertible onto the tracks and as she saw the train coming around the curve she panicked and attempted to back the vehicle off the tracks. The first of three engines crashed the left side of the car and pushed it off the rails, against a utility pole and then into a ditch.

The three occupants were not pinned in the wreckage of the automobile, Wachtel said. Passersby took the injured boys to Kingston Hospital. An H. and S. ambulance was dispatched from Saugerties to the scene and the ambulance attendants took Mrs. Cody to the hospital here.

Didn't See Car, He Says

The train was traveling 45 miles an hour at the time of the collision, according to troopers. Barry, the engineer, told authorities he never saw the automobile until the crash occurred. The car driven by Mrs. Cody was traveling in a westerly direction on the private road known in the area as Newkirk Road, when the mishap occurred.

Mrs. Cody, a native of Los Angeles, Calif., was a general technician in the Army Medical Corps during the Korean Conflict. She was a member of First Baptist Church, Saugerties.

Surviving besides her husband and two sons, William and Martin, are her mother, Mrs. Louis Allen of Santa Rosa, Calif.; four sisters, a brother, and two half-brothers.

Funeral services will be held at First Baptist Church, Partition Street, Saugerties Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Katsbaan Cemetery. Friends may call at Hartley & Lamoureux Funeral Home, Main and Second Streets, Saugerties, any time after 1 p. m. Wednesday.

Lefkowitz Will Challenge Court Ruling on Taxes

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today he would challenge a State Supreme Court decision that the state must pay federal income taxes on funds spent under a construction program for harness tracks.

Lefkowitz said he would file an appeal immediately in the Appellate Division, First Department, which sits in New York City.

The decision to be appealed was handed down Monday in New York by Justice Arthur Marks, which cost the state $21 million dollars.

Payment would be held up pending the outcome of the appeal, which probably will take several months.

Paar Due in Cuba, Newspaper Reports

HAVANA, (AP)—Jack Paar is expected to arrive shortly in Cuba, the semi-official newspaper Revolution said today.

Revolution said Paar, who walked off his nighttime television show last week in a buff over network elimination of a joke, will be a guest of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Paar will attend the Havana carnival and see "great works of permanent benefit to the nation," the paper added.

Paar has been invited the paper said, along with Herbert Matthews of the New York Times, television cameraman Bob Taber, and other newsmen and TV workers.

Paar made frequent comments in defense of Castro's government on his New York TV show.

Newspaper Field Runs Short of People, Report

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Don Carter, executive director of the Newspaper Fund Inc., said today the newspaper business is running 1,000 people a year short in finding youngsters to fill its personnel needs.

Carter in a talk at the 39th winter convention of the New York State Publishers Assn., said that the prime need is to interest high school pupils in journalism.

"The job of selling journalism to the high school youngsters is primarily the job of the local publisher," he declared.

The newspaper fund was organized by the Wall Street Journal to help solve the industry's manpower problem.

Carter said about 2,500 people are entering journalism each year from college. But at least 3,500 are needed to meet minimum demands, he said.

In bringing journalism's story into the high schools, Carter said, the fund has distributed 7,000 copies of a new book on the field, and last summer supported graduate studies in journalism for 131 high school teachers.

But he urged local publishers to seek out talented high school pupils and encourage them to work both on the high school and local newspaper.

"If the interest of the high school journalist can be stimulated, Carter said, he may seek a newspaper career after college.

Po'keepsie Bus Fare Going Up On February 22

The Empire Bus Lines Inc., of Poughkeepsie, has announced a fare increase from 15 to 20 cents on routes operating within that city starting on Monday, Feb. 22.

A spokesman for the bus company said the application for the fare increase was approved by the Public Service Commission after proof was submitted that the company had been operating at a loss and that the last year the loss was reportedly $6,900.

The company spokesman said the order was issued by the PSC on Jan. 20 to become effective on Feb. 22. He also said slight zone increases in fares between Poughkeepsie and points to the Connecticut State line also would become effective on Washington's Birthday.

Dixiecrat Blocks GOP Move on CR

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Southern Democrat today blocked a move to force the Eisenhower administration's seven-point civil rights legislation out of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

A motion to report the bill to the Senate was made by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY)—but not until the Senate itself was already in session.

Point Is Upheld

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) objected that the motion was out of order since the committee did not have permission to be sitting while the Senate was meeting.

Johnston's point was upheld by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss), the committee chairman.

It was just another bit of jockeying over the whole civil rights issue which has the Senate embroiled in controversy.

Across the Capitol, meantime, the House Rules Committee resumed hearings on a relatively mild civil rights bill. Rep. William M. Tucker (D-Va) took the witness chair to declare there is no need for any legislation.

Tucker, a former governor, said 100,000 Negroes are qualified to vote in Virginia and no effort is made to prevent them from voting.

Says Relationship Between People and Negroes in Virginia, He Said, Is Good.

"Just let us alone," he added. Despite the absence of a bill as such, the civil rights issue is on the Senate floor through proposed amendments to an unrelated bill.

And Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and Paul Douglas (D-Ill) announced they will offer an omnibus proposal, including provisions for presidentially appointed voting registrars and court appointed voter referees.

Their proposal also would include authorization for the attorney general to intervene in civil suits involving civil rights cases.

With no civil rights measure approved by committee and with no House-passed bill available, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas got the issue before the Senate by a parliamentary maneuver Monday.

Johnson got unanimous approval to bring up a harmless-looking bill to authorize the St. Louis, Mo., country school to use quarters in St. Croix, Mo., rent free.

Then he announced this unrelated measure would become the vehicle for civil rights amendments — a procedure necessary to raise the civil rights issue because the Judiciary Committee has not acted on a bill.

Advance speculation had centered on another House-passed bill as the vehicle. The surprise switch surprised Southern opponents of a change to filibuster any motion to bring up a bill. Then the battle was on.

If the Southerners had known what was up, they could have filibustered against bringing up the school bill. But now that the bill is up, there is nothing to prevent any senator from proposing to amend it by tacking on civil rights legislation. The Senate has no rule requiring that an amendment be germane to a bill.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), leading the Southern opposition, said he was surprised and chagrined at Johnson's choice. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), a civil rights supporter, said the maneuver smacked of subterfuge. He contended civil rights should be considered in a separate measure.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, supporting Johnson's move, said civil rights is an issue "with which we have to come to grips."

Proposal to Cut Speaking Time Hit by Democrats

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The powerful Republican majority leader in the Senate proposed today to limit members' debate and Democrats immediately charged angrily that he was trying to "gag" them.

Sen. Walter J. Mahoney offered a resolution to amend the Senate rules to give members 15 minutes in which to make statements on matters not on the order of regular business.

Personal privilege allows a member to speak on a matter that is not on the order of regular business.

Mahoney also proposed that members be allowed two minutes, instead of the present five, to explain their vote on an issue.

He said the changes were necessary to expedite business.

Sen. Samuel L. Greenberg (D-Manhattan) charged that the changes constituted a "gag rule."

He said senators should be allowed to speak on any issue as long as he wished.

Sen. Austin Erwin (R-Genesee) accused the Democrats of invoking personal privilege to "rave on and degrade members."

He referred specifically to a debate Monday night and a week ago when Democrats rose on points of personal privilege to answer charges made by Republican Gov. Rockefeller and to attack the state commission investigating governmental operations in New York City.

CS Drive Cuts 723 From State Jobs As Unqualified

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — More than 700 state employees have been fired by the Rockefeller administration since last August in a crackdown against persons holding civil service jobs for which they have not qualified by examination.

A Civil Service Commission spokesman said today that 723 persons had been dropped. Many more among 447 others who have not taken or passed tests will be discharged but some will remain because of difficulty in replacing them.

The firings are in addition to expected layoffs in April of about 1,500, if proposed state budget cuts are approved by the Legislature.

Nearly every state agency has been hit by the Civil Service Commission's intensified drive to remove workers who have held jobs for more than two years without qualifying. The Public Works Department has lost the most—178 of its 251 provisionals.

Some of the 1,170 involved have qualified recently by examination and are being restored to jobs, the spokesman said. Some went to work in the administration of Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman and a few while Republican Thomas E. Dewey was governor.

The commission spokesman said provisional employees probably never would be eliminated completely because of shortages of people with specific qualifications, and because of undesirable job locations.

The drive against unqualified long-term provisionals, the spokesman said, had reduced this group to about one-half of one per cent of the 71,736 state jobs in the competitive class.

The commission also has speeded up its examination program and placement program.

Kingston Sales Up for Period, Po'keepsie Down

Some interesting figures on retail trade were released today by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. They were taken from the preliminary report of the 1958 Census of business just released by the Bureau of the Census. The report compares 1958 with 1954 retail trade statistics for all counties and cities in the state.

Kingston is credited with retail sales of $60,243,000 in 1958, an increase of $7,331,000 or about 14 per cent over 1954. During the same four year period the City of Poughkeepsie shows a decrease in retail sales of $154,000 from 1954 sales of $88,507,000.

The Chamber of Commerce believes that this comparatively favorable situation is largely due to area growth and expansion during this four year period. The fact that merchants have kept pace with the demands of shoppers, including selection and variety of merchandise, adequate parking facilities and better traffic movement by the adopting of the one-way traffic plans in the uptown and downtown sections of the city have all been contributing factors.

The situation will be further improved by the opening of the new arterial route this summer.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Feb. 7—Stephen Wayne to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Max Figue, RD 1, Ulster Park.

Student Gets Up To 3 Years in Rhinebeck Case

A 23-year-old college student, Wallace Pulver, of Rhinebeck, who recently pleaded guilty in Dutchess County to second degree burglary and attempted first degree rape, today was sentenced by County Judge John R. Schwartz to a term of three to six years in Sing Sing prison.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta recommended severe punishment. Pulver was indicted on other charges of first degree burglary, second degree assault and possessing a weapon in violation of Section 1897 of the Penal law.

The youth was accused of entering the home of State Trooper Harry Kaiser, Route 303, Rhinebeck, on the morning of Dec. 1, 1959, while the trooper was taking a baby sitter home. Troopers said Pulver held a deer knife in his hand and took $10 from a wallet.

At the time of his arrest, Pulver was accused of grabbing Mrs. Kaiser and knocking her to the floor where he attempted to assault her. When Mrs. Kaiser told a telephone operator of what was taking place in her home, Pulver fled. He was later apprehended by State Trooper Emmett F. Donahue of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

Pulver, who resides on the old Albany Post Road, south of Rhinebeck village, was described as a student at Dutchess Community College. He formerly attended Red Hook schools.

Police Checking On Summer Home Fire in Dutchess

State Police and deputy sheriffs in Dutchess County today investigated a fire which destroyed a one and one-half story frame summer home at Billings, according to Sheriff C. Fred Close.

The house was owned by Michael S. Nunez, of New York City, and was completely furnished. The sheriff said the cause of the fire was under investigation.

Rolf Baum, of South Millbrook, was passing through Billings at 6:30 a. m. when he saw the house in flames. He notified a nearby resident who summoned the LaGrangeville Fire Department in command of Chief John Neilson.

Engine 3, driven by David Cassell was leaving the firehouse on Titusville Road, when the apparatus swung too wide and the truck left the pavement and went down an embankment. Engines 1 and 2 responded to the blaze.

The sheriff said Engine 3 was hauled back to the highway undamaged at about 10:30 a. m.

Nothing Like Stalin-Truman Tandem

Restrained Ike, Bubbly Nikita Help to Clear U. S.-Soviet Air

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One thing we don't know about the present quiet relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union is whether it's the result of an accident of history—the personalities of two men at the right time.

President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev both came to power when relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, because of Korea, were at their lowest point since World War II.

Both Antagonists

President Truman and Joseph Stalin had been the leaders during a period after World War II in which relationships between the two nations steadily got worse.

Truman, who met Stalin only once at the end of the European war, left office in 1953 just a few weeks before the old dictator died. By then both men had become harsh antagonists.

Eisenhower, succeeding Truman, was more restrained. Khrushchev, moving up steadily after Stalin's death, sought to establish a new relationship with the West by denouncing Stalin.

Thus the air was cleared for a fresh start. Still, it probably never would have been possible except that the personalities of the two men had something in common.

Outgoing Personalities

Both talked peace and good will. Both had outgoing personalities, quick to laugh or grin. The bubbly Khrushchev is even more the outgoing type than Eisenhower.

It's hard to imagine anything like the present period of calm, and hope that things may get better, if the sullen, suspicious, introverted Stalin had been the Soviet leader facing Eisenhower these past seven years.

It is quite possible the outspoken Truman, who believed in the stern fist, wouldn't have gotten along with Khrushchev who can snarl and threaten when he thinks it's necessary.

No matter what the Soviets have said about American foreign policy and tactics since Eisenhower took office seven years ago they have been careful to avoid potshots at him.

No Needless Digs

Eisenhower doesn't take any needless digs at Khrushchev. If they had ever let personal hostility develop almost certainly there would have been no Khrushchev visit or a summit meeting arranged.

But Eisenhower is moving toward the end of his presidency, with less than a year to go. Khrushchev is no chicken any more. In a few years he'll be off the scene.

Then what happens?

It isn't pleasant to think what may happen if a Soviet leader with the sour antagonism and violence of Stalin or the hardnosed attitude of Molotov moves into Khrushchev's place.

By the same token a President who let temper get the best of him might turn Khrushchev or his successor into a bull.

Pilot, Housewife Killed as Plane Rams Into Home

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP)

A Navy jet crashed into a house Monday killing both the pilot and the wife of a Hungarian freedom fighter. The woman standing at her kitchen sink was decapitated.

Lt. Gordon N. Blake, 36, had radioed seconds before the crash that the engine of his A4D was vibrating as he approached Moffett Naval Air Station on a training flight.

It plunged into a subdivision five miles from the field and just blocks from his own home, crashing in flames into the house of Margaret Halmi, 44.

Her husband, Dezso Halmi, was called from his work as an electronics engineer at Palo Alto and found her body in the wreckage.

Their sons, George, 20, and David, 15, were in class at Mountain View Union High School. Halmi brought his family here three years ago.

Blake, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, was attached to Attack Squadron 153.

His father, Vernon Blake, lives in Circleville, Ohio. Blake is also survived by his wife, Kay.

Paar Show Goes On Without Star

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jack Paar television show went on the air Monday night — without Paar but with some quips by author Alexander King that brought a few gasps from the audience.

Paar and his wife, Miriam, left their Bronxville, N.Y., home Monday for a vacation. The comedian had said he was going to South America or Mexico. His agent would say only that Paar was headed toward "a warm climate."

The comedian walked off his show Thursday night. He protested the censorship of a joke by the National Broadcasting Co. from his taped show of the previous night.

Paar said then he would not return to the show, but he has cooled off a little since and said he hopes he doesn't have to return to the show. He remains under contract to NBC.

King, who appeared often with Paar on the program, talked at length about censorship. NBC allowed the entire program on the air as taped, including King's comments.

The author said he would not appear on the show again without Paar.

STIMULUS OF SPRING

While Congress has not as yet taken any official notice of the sharp drop in stock prices since the first of the year, that is probably just as well. For by the time a committee could get organized prices could easily have turned round and be on the way back toward record levels.

Actually, nothing worthy of special Congressional attention has happened to stock prices. Though the Dow Jones industrial averages closed recently below 620—down about 65 points from the December 31 high—there were no signs of share dumping. It is probably true that many individual investors with a short term interest in the market did not find the ready buyers they wanted when it came time to sell. But institutional investors are keeping well-bought stocks securely in their portfolios.

There seems little doubt that much of the new money available to pension trustees, and so forth, is finding its way into the bond market. Attractive interest rates account for the lack of support in the equities market. This might well continue for some period.

But as winter recedes and spring appears on the horizon, stock prices could recover like the crocus. It has happened in other springs.

BISSEXTILE YEAR

Unbeknownst to all but a handful of the citizenry we are now in the midst of a bissextile year. The mystery takes on a more familiar aspect if one designates it as leap year, which it is. The year 1960 is going to have 366 days. What with the electioneering and all, it may seem even longer.

It is customary to warn bachelors that in such a year eager females may bespeak them for matrimony. Such warnings no longer have much pertinence. Maidens with wedlock in mind are likely to speak up at any time in these emancipated days. Indeed, there is reason to suppose that warnings of this kind never did have much practical value, considering the well known ability of a girl to cause a man to pop the question he had no intention of popping.

Still, the custom for women to woo during leap year is of historical interest. No one seems to know how it originated, though it was sanctified by law in Scotland as early as the 13th century. Back in those times, if a maid bespoke a man in leap year he was obliged to marry her or pay a substantial fine. In this respect, at least, society has progressed.

As a practical matter, leap year is now of primary interest to those who were born on February 29. To them we say, Happy bissextile year!

The Dalai Lama, exiled from Tibet, his deposited in Calcutta banks a sizable fortune in gold, enough to last him the rest of his life. Or perhaps even enough to keep him going a couple of years in this country.

VOICE OF THE FITCHMAN

Anastas Mikoyan, the Soviet Union traveling fitchman, told Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro the other day that he's on the right track. He complimented him on having learned so quickly, in his first year in office, how to steal other people's property.

Whatever it is—farmland, factory, commercial enterprise—you seize it from the rightful owner without offering compensation. When the owners demand payment, you brand them as "enemies of the state." If foreign investments are involved, any call for a fair settlement can be labeled "interference by a foreign power."

Moscow has even carried the game further. In a spirit of phony good will, it opens "negotiations" for payment on things it seized or borrowed. Then, in return for such payment, it bargains for something more.

It's the old "two tens for a five" routine the Russians know so well.

Communism is a cloak for thievery. Mikoyan obviously hopes that Castro, hav-

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE BUSINESS OF GOVERNMENT

We have become so absorbed in the greatness of our international position that we forget our national housekeeping which is of equal significance. A politician can make headlines by associating himself with international relations and making speeches on subjects which few understand, but there is little excitement over such an issue as abolishing the Postal Savings System, which has no real purpose, is not used much by our people and is constantly receding in effectiveness. Perhaps most citizens have forgotten that the Post Office is in the banking business.

For instance, in 1947, the Postal Savings System had 4,196,000 subscribers; in 1955, 2,711,000 subscribers and it is estimated that the figure for 1959 will show 1,600,000 subscribers.

Considering that the savings banks of the country are now well-established and deposits are insured, the Postal Savings System has lost its value and ought to be abolished. The deposits have decreased from about $4,000,000,000 in 1947 to $348,000,000 at the end of 1959. Most of the principal mutual savings banks in New York City have deposits equal to the entire Postal Savings System.

This is only one of the many examples of housekeeping tasks that need to be done. The Hoover Commission has shown what needs to be done and great sums of money can be saved by cleaning out the rubbish that has accumulated over the years in the operations of the Executive branch of the government. Whereas in private enterprise, parts of businesses are discarded when they no longer serve, in the government, those agencies which are once established are not discarded because politicians develop a vested interest in their existence. Also sometimes businessmen develop a vested interest in a particular government agency which looks after their affairs. Thus, there is an accumulation of useless, costly agencies in government which inflate the expense of government operations and which the people really cannot afford.

Some day some Senator or Representative will devote his career to fighting against these wasteful, duplicative expenditures which are intolerable in a period of inflation.

The Eisenhower Administration has not faced this housekeeping problem realistically. President Eisenhower, who cannot be a candidate for reelection and who therefore is freer than most Presidents to do courageous deeds, seems never to have had the time to devote to the smaller tasks of administration. Perhaps Sherman Adams used to look after the independent agencies, but Herbert Hoover has pointed to the impossibility of the President finding the time for it.

For instance, it is now necessary to reorganize the independent agencies, the ICC, the FTC, the FCC, the SEC, etc. Some of these agencies have grown into bureaucratic monsters, delaying our development as a nation, slowing progress, maintaining at any risk the status quo.

Whatever advantages the independent agencies have, they have become too entrenched in their own authority and have lost flexibility. Note how long it took the Federal Trade Commission to discover that the claims about tar in filtered cigarettes were hardly truthful statements. Or note that the Federal Communications Commission, established to monitor the air which is the property of the whole American people, took forever to observe that television was being used to perpetrate a hoax and a swindle and has not yet done anything about it. Even now, with all the noise about payola, comedians slip in plugs for Florida real estate and their own private automobiles. And has the Securities and Exchange Commission done anything of any significance in connection with the dishonest sale of stock in New York, particularly the modern methods employed in so-called Boiler Shop operations, which sell as much under as over the counter? They do not even have an adequate force to do the policing that is necessary.

The administrative reorganization is essential to efficient government. Apart from the possibility of taking four or five billion dollars out of the cost of governmental operations, the reorganization of the independent agencies and other Executive agencies could make government action more efficient, swifter, give the citizen a better handling of his problems and his relations with his own government.

The possibility of such a reorganization is not in the offing. The likelihood is that the great men will devote themselves to being great men and the administration of government will remain as confused as ever.

Factors Which Can Cause Hardening of the Arteries

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As recently as my student days, the medical profession believed that arteriosclerosis was a result of normal "wear and tear," perhaps hastened by a diet that contained an excess of red meat and maybe by syphilis. Because of the latter suspicion, iodine drops were regularly prescribed. And the sclerotic patient was not permitted to eat red meat although, to this day, no one has explained why or how beef differs in its effects from fish or from the dark or white meat of poultry.

Whatever the theories, it was a fact that neither iodides nor meat diet protected older men and women from arteriosclerotic damage.

After surviving the infections without benefit of antibiotics, some were felled by strokes. Some were victims of what was then called "acute indigestion" but what we now recognize as an attack of coronary closure.

Some just shriveled like the old gentlemen in Oliver Wendell Holmes' poem, "The Last Leaf." And some suddenly fell apart like the "Wonderful One Hoss Shay" in another of Dr. Holmes' immortal creations.

Fortunately for all of us, various investigators refused to be misled by ancient myths or to accept a defeatist attitude. They studied arterial disease in individual patients and in the massed statistics of large hospitals, military establishments and insurance companies. Here are some of their most important findings:

Hardening of the arteries begins at birth. Fatty deposits may be seen in the great arteries of stillborns and of infants who die soon after birth.

By early adult life process may be considerably advanced. Some 77.3 per cent of our young soldiers who met death in the Korean War had significant degrees of coronary involvement.

The percentage of nonsmokers who suffer heart attacks is half that of the pack-a-day cigarette smokers, according to a survey of 187,000 men made by the American Cancer Society.

Men and women who are overweight fall victims to strokes and coronary attacks at least a decade sooner than persons of average weight.

A high blood content of certain fatty substances appears to have a direct bearing on the tendency to develop high blood pressure and brain or heart vascular accidents.

The high blood content of these arteriosclerotic-producing substances (atherogens) seems dependent on the presence in the lush American diet of excessive amounts of fats of animal origin, i. e., milk fat, cream, butter, egg yolk, lard and bacon.

But of these last I will have more to say, so don't throw these foods out of your refrigerator just yet.

ing learned that game, may pick up other features of the "doctrine" almost as readily. Fidel has some pretty good Red tutors right at home.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Russia's premier, Nikita Khrushchev, is again tossing thunderbolts—and monkey wrenches—like a would-be Jove on Mt. Olympus. And the great game of guessing what he does is again practiced all across the land.

Students and experts on Russia say there are two main schools of thought about this.

The first, which has found widespread belief in America, is that all the answers can be found in the writings of Marx, Lenin and Stalin. In other words, it's an international Communist conspiracy to take over the world.

The second opinion, widely held in Europe, is that the Russians today are behaving the way Russians have always behaved even in imperial czarist days.

In other words, that is just another chapter of European history, which is one long record of warfare. The only difference is a new coat of paint and battle dress.

THERE IS PERHAPS a third view, in between the other two, which would find all the answers in Marx or history.

Under the camouflage there is the near-miracle of Russia's industrialization. This is considered a dominant factor. It was begun by the Bolshevik revolutionists in 1917, carried forward by Stalin and now Khrushchev.

They took a backward, largely illiterate agricultural country and converted it into the second-most powerful nation in the world, in 40 years.

It is this industrialization and this position of world power which Russian do not want to lose. They want to be first, and in some fields they are, as of now.

The Russians are analyzed now as having decided that the will not give up a thing they have acquired and since World War II. They may realize, however, that in a total war all this would be destroyed. And that is one risk that even the Russians may not want to take.

IF THIS THEORY IS CORRECT, it provides the background against which a unified Western policy must be shaped for dealing with Russia at the May summit meeting.

No agreement is now expected to come out of this session. It is regarded more as an interim affair, preparatory to later conferences. But the three main topics to be taken up are disarmament, Germany and East-West relations.

It is standard operating procedure for the Russians to build up pressure for their positions in advance. Essentially, this shows that the Russians have not changed their position on any matters to come before the summit.

Russian desires for disarmament are now regarded as sincere. The reasoning is based on the aforementioned Russian desire to maintain its industrial position—not on any economic desire to raise the standard of living.

ONE DIFFICULTY HERE is that while the West has no agreed-on disarmament program, the Russians do have their own plan and that is the only one they want to talk about.

They will not consider any inspection on their own territory. They regard this as espionage. They know where all the Western bases are and their strengths; the West tells such things openly.

But what the Russians say they fear is that once the West finds out where the Russian bases are, the West will then discontinue disarmament and resume the arms race.

Khrushchev indicates he will accept inspection on disarmament, if it progresses. This the West will not accept. So the only hope is in the 10-nation disarmament talks to convene in March at Geneva, under UN auspices.

ON EAST-WEST RELATIONS, the Soviet formula is still "coexistence." To the Russians this means in effect, "What's ours is ours and what's yours must be neutral."

This applies to the Russian proposal to make the Western zones of Berlin a "free city."

But the showdown on the German question—the possibility of the Communist countries signing a separate peace treaty with East Germany—is not expected to come until after the summit meeting and after President Eisenhower has visited Russia in June.

South's jump to four spades was a distinct overbid and when he looked at the dummy he wished he had been a trifle more conservative. Still, he saw that there was some faint hope for him and proceeded to give the cards their chance.

East cashed two diamonds and shifted to the four of hearts. South won in dummy, played the ace of spades, led a club to dummy's king and a second club back toward his ace.

East had nothing to gain by ruffing and discarded a diamond. Now South took his ace and king of hearts and led a spade.

East had to win with the king and lead to a red card, whereupon South discarded his last club and trumped in dummy.

The hand is an excellent example of the strip play. I will leave it to you readers to figure out why South played the clubs the way he did before running out the hearts.

South's Bolt Seen Giving House Choice of President

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The big political news of the coming months of 1960 is not just the struggle between the various aspirants for the Democratic nomination for the presidency but what the South may be preparing to do at the polls next November. The South has it in its power to take 128 electoral votes away from the Democratic party and to refrain also from giving them to the Republican nominee. This means that, unless one nominee or the other got 269 of the remaining 409 votes, the House of Representatives would have to select the next president.

What will the South do? A hint has just come from Sen. Richard B. Russell, of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and one of the most outstanding men in Congress.

He said something very significant on this issue a few days ago in addressing the Georgia Legislature, but somehow it wasn't noted in the press generally. He declared:

"I confess I do not know how much longer the South must serve as the doormat for the ambitious leaders of both national parties.

"Certainly there is no comfort for us in the ranks of the Republican party. The heir apparent to the Republican crown already has taken his stand with NAACP. He is, in fact, one of their most prominent honorary members.

"Our own party has virtually deserted us. The proud democracy of Jefferson and Jackson has become the captive of a Left-wing element that is barely democratic even in name, but which is trying to recast the party in its image.

Wants Better Treatment
"Many of this gang of phony liberals and party-wreckers have publicly advocated driving the South from the house of our fathers.

"The South is entitled to better treatment from the party that it has nurtured, supported and revered for almost as long as it has the Constitution. We are entitled to the measure of respect and influence within the party that our years of loyalty have earned.

"No section of the country can rival the South's long record of Democratic loyalty. But party loyalty is a two-way street. Those who kick the South in the teeth at every opportunity must not expect us to keep turning the other cheek forever.

"The South has no intention of abandoning its loyalty to the democratic principles that it has ever held. But it owes no loyalty to self-serving Democrats who flout and despise the true democratic faith.

Built on Constitution
"The patron saints of the democracy—giants like Jefferson,

Madison and Jackson—built the party upon the solid rock of the constitution.

"That is where the South stands today. Others may seek to subvert that fundamental premise of the democratic party, but the South will keep the faith.

"We have taken our stand on the Constitution of the United States. And there we propose to remain."

The first test will come in the next two or three weeks. Upon Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, will fall the burden of getting some kind of "civil rights" bill through the Senate.

Walking Tightrope
To win support of northern Democrats at the nominating convention, he has to get a bill passed now that will make him appear at least as satisfactory on this issue as Sen. Kennedy or Sen. Symington or Adlai Stevenson. If, on the other hand, the Texas senator steers a compromise bill through, he satisfies the South, he will, of course, retain the support of his fellow southerners but doing this might cost him the support of northern Democrats.

There has been a tendency in the North to write off the Southern opposition as of no political consequence. The assumption has been that the people of the South will not vote for the Republican nominee and hence will be compelled to vote for the Democrat, no matter who he is. This was the experience in 1948, when thirty-nine electoral votes in the South were taken away from President Truman, indicates how the South operates when it wants to bolt the Democratic ticket. This wasn't quite enough to throw the election into the House of Representatives, but it would have taken only thirty-eight more electoral votes from the South to have brought that about.

No Rights Agitation Then
For Mr. Truman got 303 electoral votes and 26 was necessary for a majority. The agitation on "civil rights" and "states' rights" had not been carried on at that time, however, to such an intensive degree as it has been since the 1954 Supreme Court decision on desegregation in the schools.

This year it would not be as difficult as it was in 1948 to mobilize the protest vote in the South. In fact, even if the protest vote is a two-way street, in each Southern state feel they have to stay "regular" and support the "regular" set of Democratic party electors on the ballot, the "write-in" technique is still available. This is how South Carolina elected Strom Thurmond to the United States Senate in November, 1954. The same thing can happen also in other Southern states in November of this year in support of an independent set of electors.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The big debate in business circles isn't whether Jack Paar did right or was wrong. Or whether this missile or that is our best bet. It's whether some of the zoom isn't going out of the boom.

Only very few optimists thought the big spurt of industrial activity after the settlement of the steel labor dispute could go on forever at that pace. But many are disturbed that its life seems to be proving so short.

There's no real slowdown yet. But the activity seems quieter than a few weeks back.

Government officials say that if this is just more than seasonal, it will prove a good thing. They always get nervous when activity seems to be moving at too fast a clip. An orderly advance is more to their liking. There's less of a letdown later.

The stock market gave the public the first inkling of what was going on. Many think that stock prices dropped because a lot of folk decided prices were too high, in relation to earnings, good as some of these have been. But others think that the traders sensed a turnaround later this year in the general economy if the former pace was maintained. And none wants to see that.

Business is still humming. Steel is pouring out of the mills. Retail trade is higher than usual for this time of year. Inventories are still being built up. Companies are still talking about expansion spending.

Some companies appear to have rebuilt their stocks in jig time after the steel mills reopened.

Consumers are still buying large quantities of goods at the store. They are taking on huge totals of installment debt. But even here the rush to take on time payments isn't what it used to be some weeks back.

Spring could change the picture. It could make people want to buy new cars, new appliances. It could put a portion of the zoom back into the boom.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

There is only one Norman Rockwell. He has been doing front covers for the Saturday Evening Post for the pleasure of at least two generations of American readers. Many of these covers are cut out and find their way to the walls of American homes.

His pictures show the every day good things of life. There is movement in all his pictures yet they give you peace of mind, they are relaxing. He has painted some 306 Post covers. For models he uses every day folks from his own neighbors at Stockbridge, Mass. The Feb. 13, 1960 Post is carrying his story as he told it to his son. He is known as America's best loved artist.

His story starts with him being a skinny 10-year-old kid with narrow shoulders, but what he wanted most was to be a weight-lifter. Every morning he did pushups and deep knee bends and the like before his bedroom mirror, after a month's try nothing happened to his muscles so he fell back on what seemed to be his one talent, drawing, and he's been doing it successfully for some 56 years.

I am just wondering, supposing he had worked up muscles, and made good in some school sport, given it all his precious time after school, and memorized endless scores of other players as some folks do all their life. Perhaps there would not have been a Norman Rockwell, the illustrator. It would be sad indeed.

In this Feb. 13 issue is another article called, "Don't Hamstring the 'Talented'" by Vice Admiral H. G. Rickover, USN. If you have a chance read both articles, when you have time to read them carefully, and in a quiet room.

No doubt many readers know about George Inness, considered one of America's greatest landscape artists. He was born on a farm near Newburgh, May 1, 1825. His father was a prosperous merchant of Scottish descent, and wanted his son to follow in his footsteps. At the age of 14, after his family had moved to Newark, N. J., his father bought George a corner grocery store. Those were the days a boy of 14 or 15 started his career, especially in business.

George had other ideas. Customers came in, but he was so busy with his canvas and paints that he would not wait on them. He put up with the confinement of a store just one month, then he put the key in the door for the last time. His father was wise enough to send him to study art. His interesting life is written up in "Highlights Among the Hudson River Artists" by Clara Endicott Sears.

He was another American art student who went to Europe to study. Later he made trips there with his wife. During his life time he did not receive good prices for his landscape. He, like our John Vanderlyn, could paint but needed a good agent to sell his art. It is said, a great sale of his paintings was held after he died, bringing in $108,000, around 1894. His son wrote a great deal about him later and no doubt there were times Inness was short of cash even to buy a great deal of canvas, for he often painted one picture right over the other, even before the paint was dry on the first. Sometimes he did one on top of the other five or six times, so many valuable Inness paintings were lost.

Why does hospital care cost more today?

$250—that's today's average hospital bill! But you may have to pay $500—or even $5,000—the next time you're sick. Here's why:

Today's hospital is probably the most complex institution in the world—and one of the most expensive to run.

You'll find departments and services that weren't even dreamed of a few years ago, such as premature nursery and cardio-pulmonary laboratory. Other departments, like x-ray therapy and physiotherapy, provide hundreds of new services—expensive to be sure, but vital to quick, complete recovery.

An appendix case, for instance, may need the services of 20 or more different departments. To predict possible complications, laboratory tests are made before the operation. Afterwards—still more tests make sure everything is going all right.

These tests cost money; and so do the services of the operating room, the recovery room, the pharmacy and dietetic kitchen—but they pay off in shorter hospital stays and healthier patients. 90% of the drugs provided by a modern hospital pharmacy, for instance, were unknown just a few years back.

In all departments costly modernization is taking place; and in a modern hospital there may be 50 different departments—most of which must be staffed 24 hours a day.

Miracle machines behind the scenes

"Incurably ill" is a diagnosis you don't hear as often these days—thanks, in part, to miraculous new life-saving machines.

Imagine a device that pumps blood . . . and breathes! Machines like this can take over for a patient's own heart and lungs while the surgeon performs an intricate repair job inside the heart!

Imagine an automatic alarm that summons a nurse when the patient's blood pressure reaches a critical level—new 3-dimensional x-ray movies of the heart . . . an electronic stethoscope that lets the doctor take an unborn child's pulse! These are just a few of many new developments.

Miracle machines need people to run them

Of course, it takes people to run these machines and interpret their results . . . people with special skills and years of special training. Unlike a factory or a business where machines replace people—in a hospital, they call for more people.

For instance, the use of the artificial kidney for one patient with uremia requires the services of eighteen doctors, nurses, and special technicians! No wonder 70% of today's hospital bill is for human services.

All hospital costs up

12 years ago, your basket of groceries may have cost $10—but today, those same groceries cost you $17. And just like you, hospitals must pay more for groceries—and for linens, dishes, brooms, paper napkins, and literally thousands of other housekeeping items.

Along with prices, wage rates have gone up. In addition, today's average general hospital employs almost twice as many people as it did in 1946. And your hospital must be "open for business" 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year!

There's no doubt about it—modern medical care saves lives and restores you to health sooner. But it costs more money . . . for machines . . . for human services . . . for new life-saving medicines.

That's why—today—Blue Cross protection against rising costs of modern hospital care is needed more . . . and is worth more . . . than ever before!

Ike to Address Uruguay Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will address a joint session of Uruguay's National Congress during his March 2 visit to that country, the White House announced today.

Details of the visits to Brazil, Argentina and Chile will be made available later.

The schedule for the visit to Uruguay, last country on the four-nation tour of South America beginning Feb. 22, were made public by presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

Eisenhower will arrive at Montevideo's Carrasco Airport in the Constellation propeller plane from Santiago, Chile.

He will be met there by Benito Nardone, president of Uruguay's nine-member National Council of Government, the eight other members of the council, Foreign Minister Homero Martinez and U. S. Ambassador Robert F. Woodward.

Eisenhower, accompanied by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Ambassador Woodward plus other members of the White House group, will make a formal call on the Council of Government in Plaza Independencia.

In the evening a formal dinner will be given in his honor by President Nardone.

Next morning the President will leave in his prop plane for Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he will change to his jet liner for the flight to Ramey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico.

Guilty Plea Is Entered Today by Rosendale Youth

Andrew Cherny, 20, of Rosendale, entered a plea of guilty in county court today to assault, second degree with intent to commit robbery. He will be sentenced by Judge Louis G. Bruhn Friday Feb. 26.

The maximum penalty is five years in prison.

The plea came after three days had been spent picking a jury.

Cherny was charged with being one of two youths, who committed an assault on 55-year-old Harry Harp, New Paltz school teacher last September.

Arrested at the time with Cherny was Jack Regan, 19, also of Rosendale, who was jointly indicted with him.

The jury was accepted late Monday afternoon by Assistant District Attorney James Murray and William Curran, counsel for the defendant.

Moved for trial by District Attorney Raymond Mino was a charge of escape lodged against Charles E. Boomer, 24, who is charged with escaping from Walkkill Prison Sept. 4, 1959. The jury was completed prior to the noon recess.

State of New York, as trial counsel in the Court of Claims on matters of appropriation of claims and negligence actions. He has now returned to the general practice of law in the City of Kingston where he is specializing in claims against municipalities and the state.

DiDonna has already been retained by a number of attorneys and by individual property owners in several counties as trial counsel in a large number of these matters.

Claims in the present actions arise out of the construction and reconstruction of portions of Route 28 in the Town of Shandaken in the vicinity of Pine Hill.

Held on Forgery Count

Cecil Meyers, 39, of Highmount, was arrested Monday by state police at Delhi and charged with forgery, second degree. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Benn L. Fuller of Town of Hardenbergh, Meyers was held for grand jury action and lodged in jail.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices slid downward moderately early this afternoon with pressure on automotive issues.

Losses of fractions to about a point were taken by most key stocks.

American Motors, down more than 2, was in a continuing downtrend.

The market was lower at the start and cut its losses toward the end of the first hour. But there was no follow through to the rallying trend and prices softened again.

Most steels, nonferrous metals, rails, oils, airlines and electrical equipments also declined.

A new stiffening in short term borrowing costs for the U. S. Treasury reversed a trend toward slackening rates. The reduction in auto output continued as a depressing factor.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 60 to 214.40 with the industrials down .80, the rails down 1.10 and the utilities down .10.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed.

U. S. government bonds were steady in slow transactions over the counter.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 63 Wall Street, New York City, branch office, 41 John Street, Matthew F. Hasbrouck Jr., resident manager.

They conceded that only 90 million dollars is provided in the current defense budget to prepare for an airborne alert. Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command, contends such an alert would guard against all bombers being destroyed on the ground by any sneak missile attack.

White and Sharp pointed out, however, that the bill also provides that the President may spend whatever is necessary to set up an airborne alert and come back to Congress for more money later.

Award Presented To Credit Group

The Federal Land Bank of Springfield was host recently at a special "Goal Buster Dinner" for the directors, employees and their wives of the Federal Land Bank Association of Kingston held at the Kirkland Hotel.

Judson Pierpont, assistant secretary of the Federal Land Bank presented a "merit award" for 1959 new business achievement to Fred H. DuBois, president of the Kingston association.

The $201,000 in new Federal Land Bank farm mortgages in Ulster County brought the total volume for the Kingston Association to $1,400,000 with 189 farmers. During 1959 the Federal Land Bank of Springfield made over 17 million dollars in mortgage loans to farmers in eight northeastern states.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. DuBois of New Paltz, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin VanWagenen of RD 3, Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Zimmerman of Clintonville, and Mrs. William R. Scully of Kingston. Theodore R. Wright of Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Taber of Milton and Mr. and Mrs. C. Chester Dumond Jr. of Ulster Park.

cost not to exceed $10,000. The new fire station will be constructed on property to be donated to the company by the C. A. Lynch Fire Company prior to the breaking of ground.

Two firms seeking permission to install a master television antenna service for picture-clear reception again presented proposals to the board of trustees.

Abraham Streifer of Kingston, attorney for Kingston Television, which services the city, attended with Henry Geist, vice president of Cablevision; Henry Diambra, and Hadley Williams, general manager of the firm.

Streifer told the board he did not seek an exclusive franchise, and his service could provide five New York City channels. The board asked him to submit his proposal in writing for further study by the board.

Reiterates Terms

Robert Carnright of Saugerties, attorney for Vidco Inc., reiterated his previous proposal to the board. He said the firm he represents could guarantee reception on seven New York City channels, and Channel 6, Schenectady. Carnright said his firm was ready to start as soon as permission was granted. The Vidco Inc. proposal was submitted to the board in writing and included all prices and a franchise tax proposal.

Police Chief Arthur W. Richter appeared before the board for a discussion on future proceedings on demolition and construction in the village, and the enforcement of ordinances.

The board gave Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW permission to use the village streets for the annual Loyalty Day parade to be held April 30. Mayor George P. Holmes will sign the Loyalty Day proclamation.

Election Hours Set

The hours for the village election Tuesday, March 15 were set for 12 noon to 9 p. m. in the village clerk's office. Inspectors appointed are Edwin B. Schoonmaker, chairman; George M. Van Valkenburg and John H. Negan. Machine tenders will be Mrs. Catherine Van Gaasbeek and Kenneth Brown.

Building Commissioner George Terpening Jr., was empowered to purchase floor covering for the Washington Hook and Ladder Company rooms in the municipal building.

The board approved the membership of Daniel Legg and Joseph Canger Jr., in C. A. Lynch Fire Company.

LITTLE LIZ

Many a wife keeps her husband poor by breaking things like 10's, 20's and 50's.

SEEKING LESS HOURS on the job, members of the Uniformed Fire Fighters Association, Local 461, AFL-CIO met Monday night with a Common Council committee to discuss their proposal. At the session were: Seated (l-r) Fire Chief James M. Brett, Alderman John Heitzman, 12th ward; Francis T. Argulewicz, president of Local 461, Uniformed Fire Fighters; Alderman Joseph Carroll, 11th ward; Alderman hours of employment in private industry.

Firemen Ask

Point to Work Method

The department now, it was noted, "is trained as a working platoon, and they respond to calls as a platoon. This allows members of the department to become thoroughly familiar with, and to master the job to which they are assigned, and is one of the reasons why the city has such an enviable record in checking major fires."

Disadvantages of "rotation of a man in several jobs" was discussed, and it was emphasized "that because of the teamwork so vitally necessary in the event of major fires that the city's record could not possibly have been gained if a member of the department each time he worked a shift were to handle a different job."

It was noted that because civil service tests for firemen are given only in February and June of each year, the new work week sought could not become effective until Jan. 1, 1961.

Job Not Attracting Many

Applicants for such examinations, it was reported, have declined steadily and the percentage passing the tests has also dropped sharply.

In 1946 there were 36 applicants. Six withdrew before the examination, 23 passed, four failed, and three were rejected. In 1951 there were 22 candidates, 10 passed, five failed and two withdrew. In 1959 only 11 applied, seven passed, and four failed.

One of the reasons given for the decline was that the 56-hour work week is unattractive. On a national level, it was noted, "firemen have more on-the-job deaths than any other occupation. Charts were shown to indicate a 'higher-than-average percentage of cases of heart disease, respiratory ailments, hypertension,' and other illness.

Must Return to Duty

At present, it was stressed, department members "after battling a major blaze are not entitled to time off, but must return to the station to do preventive maintenance and to prepare the fire vehicles for the next fire, which might come at any time. This is true even though the fireman might have been called on his time off. He would then be expected to return to work on his regular shift without adequate rest to recuperate from the ill effects of battling the blaze."

Members of the firemen's group and Chief James M. Brett noted that if a 42-hour week were put into effect, a platoon of men would always be in reserve, thus enabling those in the fire to take time off for proper recuperation.

Inadequate manpower, it was held, "has serious effects on the ability of the department to combat serious fires."

6 Hospitalized at Once

At the time of the fire in the Lipgar Photo Studio on Fair Street a few years ago, it was noted, six of the members of the Kingston Fire Department were hospitalized for illnesses that were incurred fighting the blaze. At such a time, the department was undermanned, and if there had been a major outbreak of fires while these men were still in the hospital, there conceivably could have been serious consequences. The new work week would provide better protection for the residents of the city in carrying out the fire department's function.

On the committee representing the Common Council were the following aldermen: Lawrence Woerner (Fourth ward), Edward Schrowang (First ward), John Heitzman (12th ward), Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (11th ward), James K. Ryan (10th ward) majority leader, Samuel J. Perry (5th ward) minority leader and Harold L. Kaye, alderman-at-large.

The delegation representing Local 461 were Francis Argulewicz, president of the local, Francis Coughlin, secretary, Local 461, Clayton Stalter, Donald Hammond and Hugh Greer.

Also at the meeting were Chief James Brett, and Fire Commissioners John Worf, Tiber Tomshaw and Edward Finch.

The resolution of Alderman Saxe which initiated the meeting called for the council's committee to report to the aldermen with all convenient speed with its findings and recommendations with the view of the possible introduction of a local law to carry out the intentions of the resolution.

Still Chasing Sub, Argentina Reports

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Argentine navy insisted today it is still chasing a submarine in the Golfo Nuevo. A skeptical public came up with a multitude of theories in the absence of a capture and there was growing belief the sub had escaped.

Speculation varied widely as to the identity of the phantom visitor pursued in the 40-by-20-mile gulf on the south Argentine coast for 18 days. Here are a few guesses voiced by the man in the street:

1. A Soviet sub scouting Argentine naval bases in case of war with the United States and a need to invade South America. Argentina maintains a base at Puerto Madryn, at the head of the gulf.

2. A U. S. sub trying to impress Argentina she is defenseless against underwater attack and should sign a mutual defense pact with the United States.

3. A smuggling ring's craft transporting American cigarettes, whisky and ball point pens.

He said St. Lawrence Gas was better equipped to serve Northern New York.

New York Natural, in its brief, said Dietrich's conclusions were "without foundation in law or fact. The brief continued:

"The examiner and the commission should not require the citizens of the Massena-Ogdensburg area to place the fate of their natural gas service in the hands of a brand new pipeline about which we know practically nothing and over which control is exercised by a foreign sovereign charged by statute with the protection of Canadian rather than American interests."

St. Lawrence Gas, in its brief, maintained:

"On the two central issues involved—gas supply and economic feasibility—New York Natural and Niagara Mohawk have placed a complete reliance on the general size and extent of their respective business operations in lieu of substantive proof that they are able to undertake the specific project before this commission on a sound economic basis."

The costs for each of the above increases would be on the first $3,000 per employee per year, but efforts have been made and will probably be continued to raise this limitation.

The above cost increases may seem small, but the Chamber of Commerce contends that they are one rung in the ladder of costs which could cause New York State employers to become priced out of business.

In releasing this information today a spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce stated that additional articles on other legislation would be released.

PROBLEMS OF REINVESTMENT

Money from three important sources is seeking employment. This is clearly revealed in a deluge of letters I recently received.

The first source is maturing bond money, mostly from the U. S. Treasury obligations. Thousands of such bond holders have substantial cash balances, and, with good securities selling to yield from 4 per cent to 5 per cent a year, they want to avoid the necessity of reinvestment in a few years.

The second source is money from savings-bond redemption. Week by week the cashing of such bonds is exceeding sales.

The third source is money being withdrawn from savings institutions, the main attraction being greater income.

This is an open letter to my readers who fall into one of those classifications.

The first list of suggested investments carries six noncallable good-grade preferred stocks. All are readily marketable. Any investor can buy and sell such shares very easily.

American Can has outstanding a $1.75 preferred. That is the yearly dividend paid quarterly by check. It is a high-grade stock, selling to yield about 4.9 per cent.

Bethlehem Steel has a $7 preferred. Quarterly dividends are $1.75 per share. A yield of 5 per cent is available.

International Harvester also has a $7 preferred. It too can be bought to yield about 4.8 per cent.

National Biscuit and United States Steel both have $7 preferreds. Biscuit sells to yield around 4.7 per cent, Steel about 5 per cent.

United States Rubber offers an $8 preferred—the quarterly dividend being $2.40 a share. The yield here is about 5.5 per cent.

Since all of these preferreds are noncallable owners of such shares have no concern with maturity.

All six fit into the investment requirements of the three classifications mentioned earlier.

The second list of suggestions carries six high-grade callable preferred stocks, all instantly marketable, all selling considerably under their call prices.

They are: Consolidated Edison $5 preferred, DuPont $3 1/2, General Mills $5, General Motors $3.75, Pillsbury $4, Wheeling Steel $5.

Owners of such preferred stocks have no coupons to clip. The corporations employ banks to mail out dividend checks.

These 12 stocks are good vehicles of investment for conservative savers. In my opinion, present prices are low, reflecting money conditions in America.

Others Responsible

NEW YORK (AP)—Chairman Earl W. Kintner of the Federal Trade Commission said today publishers and broadcasters must share the moral responsibility for maintaining honest advertising.

If public complaints against advertising continue to mount, he indicated, the FTC might decide to take legal action against those publishing or broadcasting challenged material.

In a speech for the local chapter of the Public Relations Society of America, Kintner said advertising faces a "crisis of confidence" stemming from the rigged quiz show and payola investigations.

Air Force Hopes To Have Answer About Sky Object

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A silvery object flashed through western Alaska skies late Sunday belching flames and leaving a dozen unanswered questions in its wake.

Was it a jet plane? If so, whose? Was it an unidentified flying object?

The Alaska Air Command hopes to come up with some of the answers today.

The flame-belching object was reported by several persons from Nome to St. Michael about 150 miles away. They said it appeared from the direction of Siberia and hurtled southeasterly.

The reports were conflicting, said Maj. Roy E. Haines, public information officer at Elmendorf Air Force Base.

"Some had it low and slow. Some had it high and fast," he said.

A spokesman for the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs said the agency had no report on the object.

"If it were an 'unknown,' we certainly would have a report on it."

YOUR POCKETBOOK

Standard vs. Compact Car: It's Luxury vs. Economy

By FAYE HENLE

Detroit's auto makers would like to tune into your dinner table debate.

I'll wager that for an impressive number of you the current controversy is standard vs. compact car.

Papa will claim that you get what you pay for, at least this is the view in my household. Yet, someone will raise the question of economy of operation. Here is where the debate gets hot!

How much of an initial saving is the smaller car? Compare the fully-equipped standard car with the fully-equipped compact car of the same manufacturer and you may discover your debate is a quibble—a $275 difference in favor of the compact model.

How about running the smaller car? Here is where your pocketbook will really feel the difference.

Registration and license plate fees: Generally based on weight, so score one for the compact car.

Insurance: The National Association of Underwriters has announced that some 400 insurance companies will give compact car owners a 10 per cent discount on their premiums. The association has asked insurance supervisory agencies in 43 states to approve this 10 per cent discount rate starting next month. Shortly, similar approval will be sought in other states. (Sports cars are excluded from this discount.)

Gas Consumption: The Bureau of Public Roads puts mileage of the average U. S. passenger car at slightly less than 15 miles per gallon. The claim the compact cars make is 30 miles per gallon (with standard transmission).

Repairs: Here again, the compact car can claim an edge. You can replace the windshield of a compact car for $50 or spend $260 for the windshield on a large luxury car.

Are you puzzled by the fact that a time when we are spending more and our tastes are being upgraded that we should be seeking economies in our car buying? You should not be. For many of us our spending habits are changing radically. For others, the idea of a second car dawned only recently. These are plus factors for the smaller car. And, if you think that the smaller car was a foreign brain-child, you are wrong, too. George Romney, president of American Motors, Inc., sought to push the compact car before World War 2. For details, read Tom Mahoney's biography of the gentleman, just off the press and titled "The Story of George Romney."

Regardless of how you resolve your debate, you should know of the following tax savings any car is entitled to. These are enumerated in a Ford Motor Company publication, "Buyer's Digest of New Car Facts."

You could save at least 22 cents of every dollar you spend:

Deduct from your income tax: state, city or county sales taxes when you buy a car plus registration fees, drivers' license, city or county use tax and property tax plus the interest portion of your financing charge and state and local gas taxes.

If you have an accident or loss by theft, any expense not paid by insurance is deductible. If you use your car for business—exclusive of driving to and from your job—these are deductions you can take: Gas and oil, title and automobile inspection fees, lubrication, repairs, washing, tires and supplies, garage, parking fees, insurance and depreciation.

The Palais de la Defense in Paris is the world's largest exhibition hall. It would cover about 14 blocks of a metropolitan American city.

Publishers Ready For Convention At Buffalo Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Daily newspaper publishers were to meet here today for the two-day winter convention of the New York State Publishers Assn.

Robert F. Kennedy, brother of Sen. John F. Kennedy and former chief counsel of the Senate Labor-Management Investigating Committee and Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond of the State Court of Appeals, were scheduled to address the publishers Wednesday.

At a one-day meeting of the New York Associated Dailies Monday, Assemblyman Joseph R. Younglove of Johnstown urged newspaper publishers to aid the State Legislature in the fight against indecent literature.

"I have listened to the high-sounding pleas in the name of freedom by the purveyors of filth," Younglove said. "They would invoke the constitutional right for freedom of the press, but they will have no part of the obligation of the right of others to protect themselves from such abuse."

Younglove, who is chairman of the joint legislative committee studying publication and distribution of obscene printed matter, called publishers of such material "parasites of printed poison." William Kessler, general manager of the Gloversville Leader-

Herald, was elected president of the 53-member organization. He succeeds Paul L. Geibel, vice president of the Cortland Standard.

Robert H. Nagel, publisher of the Batavia Daily News, was elected vice president and Donald J. Curran, business manager of the Hornell Tribune, was reelected secretary.

CopperStrike Ends In 181st Day

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Montana's longest copper industry strike ended in its 181st day Monday night.

Workers began returning to their jobs today at Anaconda Co. properties in Butte, Great Falls and East Helena, Mont. The strike began last Aug. 19.

The International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers (Ind.) announced Monday night its striking members approved a 28-month contract in secret balloting last Thursday. The vote was 1,915 to 543.

About 5,000 workers were involved in the strike.

The new contract, which extends to June 30, 1962, provides wage increases of from 15 to 35 cents an hour and fringe benefits amounting to an additional 8 cents an hour.

The old contract provided wages averaging from $2.20 to $2.57 an hour.

Carole Bursts Into Tears on Stand, Prosecutor Irked

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pretty Carole Tregoff burst into tears her first day on the witness stand at her murder trial with Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

The 23-year-old ex-model was being cross-examined Monday about the night Finch's wife was shot to death. Carole testified she and the doctor tried to talk to his wife about a divorce. Mrs. Finch refused, said Carole.

The prosecutor's rapid-fire questioning continued. "What happened next?"

"The next thing that happened, she had a gun."

"How long after she said she didn't want to talk to you was it before you saw this gun?"

Tears came to Carole's eyes.

"Just in time for her to turn around, take the gun out of the car and turn around," she replied.

Then Miss Tregoff cried. Prosecutor Clifford Crail snapped: "I have no intention to examine this witness, under these conditions..."

Interrupted Carole: "I'm okay."

Dabbling at her eyes with a handkerchief, she continued.

The state has charged she and Dr. Finch plotted to kill the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36, so they could marry without losing part of the doctor's wealth in a divorce court.

Atty. Robert A. Neeb Jr. asked Miss Tregoff: "Did you, on or about July 18, 1959, kill Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch?"

The defendant answered, her voice low: "Absolutely not."

Neeb asked her only eleven questions, quizzing her about the main part of the state's case against her: that she and the doctor tried to hire an underworld character to kill Mrs. Finch, and when this failed, they went from

Las Vegas, Nev., where she was staying, to the Finch home in West Covina, a Los Angeles suburb, to kill the woman.

Carole denied all the state's allegations.

Then, for more than an hour Carole faced Crail's cross-examination. He fired his questions so fast defense attorneys complained the witness wasn't being given a chance to complete some answers.

Olympic Athletes at Squaw Valley Conquer Mountains—of Good Food

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Food and Markets Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Eighteen cooks will help feed the 800 competing athletes from 33 nations at the Olympic Winter Games in Squaw Valley, Calif. (18th through the 28th of February). Also two bakers (bread and rolls will be supplied by commercial bakers and meat will come from packing house ready for cooking), one butcher, a head pantry man and five salad makers and three vegetable preparers, as well as six lunch box makers.

In line with the cosmopolitan nature of the best American menus, the cooks will represent many nations in their backgrounds—German, French, Italian and Swiss among others. They are all of the old school, believing food should receive loving care in its preparation. They will work with the most efficient modern equipment.

To feed the Olympic athletes, games officials and newspapermen, about 2,000 in all, chief chef Peter Rasmussen and his menu planning committee figure it will take the following to keep them well fed during the 11 days in beautiful, snow-covered Squaw Valley:

Fifty-four thousand eggs, 55,000 half pints of milk, 700 gallons of bulk milk, 700 gallons of cream, 2,000 pounds of bacon, 1,000 pounds of sausage, 10,000 pounds of prime ribs of beef, 7,000 pounds of potatoes, 1,500 pounds of rice, 7,000 gallons of coffee, tea and hot chocolate, 1,000 gallons of soup.

Here are two sample menus of the high protein meals the 800 skiers, skaters and hockey players will be served:

Lunch: Orange juice, vegetable juice, apple juice; mixed green salad, pear and cottage cheese salad, potato salad; chicken broth, saltine crackers; Hungarian goulash, spaghetti with meat sauce, Italian style; rump steak, country gravy; julienne string beans, cauliflower, steamed rice, whipped potatoes; ice cream, fig and apricot compote, oatmeal cookies, fresh fruit, assorted cookies; milk, coffee, tea, chocolate; rolls, muffins, bread and butter.

Dinner: Orange juice, vegetable juice, apple juice; mixed greens, pear and cottage cheese salad, lettuce and sliced tomato salad; cream of tomato soup, saltine crackers; roast sirloin of beef, broiled veal cutlet, fried spring chicken, poached salmon; diced carrots, fresh zucchini, steamed rice, parsley potatoes; ice cream, apple pie, rice and raisin pudding fresh fruit, assorted cheeses, milk, coffee, tea, chocolate; rolls, muffins, bread and butter.

TOMORROW'S OLYMPIC DINNER: Grapefruit juice, split pea soup, crackers, baked ham, fruit sauce, Lyonnaise potatoes, broccoli, lettuce and tomato salad, rolls, butter or margarine, pineapple pie with ice cream, coffee, tea, milk or chocolate.

Plans Private Hearings On Uptate Gambling

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The State Investigation Commission plans to open private hearings on last October's Uptate gambling raids here in about a week.

Goodman A. Sarachan, commission chairman, said Monday that the possibility of public hearings will depend on the outcome of the private sessions.

He declined to say whether city or law enforcement officials would be among those subpoenaed. State Police arrested about 140 persons last Oct. 23 in 20 cities and villages. More than a third of

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can a TV star become a top movie draw? Steve McQueen thinks so, and he may be right.

So far it has never happened. Yet here comes McQueen, the bounty hunter of "Wanted Dead or Alive." He recently stole acting honors from Frank Sinatra in "Never So Few." Now he's going to Mexico to co-star with Yul Brynner in "The Magnificent Seven." Then Sinatra himself intends to direct Steven in "The Execution of Private Slovik."

"I think it's ridiculous to say that somebody from TV can't make it in pictures," said the outspoken McQueen. "The movies have been at a standstill for the past two years. They've got to start moving or else."

"The only way they can do it is to inject some new talent into the business. The logical place to find new talent is in TV—not just actors, but directors and writers, too. There is better stuff being done in TV than movies these days, anyway."

The best way of getting to know McQueen is to let him talk. He talks with a refreshing candor.

"Yes, I'm having a ball. I'm doing the things I like to do and I'm not mad at anybody. I guess I'm averaging around $150,000 a year. That's a comfort. Especially after the life I've had."

"I was poor in New York when I started out as an actor. I mean really poor. Starving. I used to latch onto some beautiful girl and offer to give her a guided tour of Greenwich Village. She'd usually buy me lunch, and I'd really load on."

"I came off the farm—Slater, Mo. Not a poor farm, sort of middle-class. I hated the farm life and didn't get along with small-town people. I guess they were just as glad to see me go as I was to get out of there. I was always getting into scrapes."

"I like doing the TV series, though I don't have enough time to get enough quality. Still, I try to keep my character believable; I think it's ridiculous for a Western hero to go in a bar and knock out three guys at once. One of the nicest fan letters I've gotten came from 30 firemen in Butte, Mont. They said they liked the character because it proved there was a little chicken in all of us."

Good Advice

Use a pressure saucepan, if you have one, for cooking artichokes and smoked tongue. Considerable time is saved with this method and the results are excellent.

Father, 3 Sons Die As Fire Ruins Home

ROME, N. Y. (AP) — A cab driver and his three young sons burned to death when a fire swept their two-family home early today, while the mother and a young daughter lay in hospital beds in another part of the city.

Police said the dead were Arnold Johnson, 40, and his sons, Jerold, 16, Carmen, 14, and Allen, 7.

The fire swept through the two-story frame house, leaving only a shell behind. A family of five escaped from the first floor.

Police said Walter Szabeski, who fled with his wife and three children, told this story:

Szabeski went to bed about 1 a. m. Shortly after, he heard a dull explosion upstairs. He saw a glow coming from the back of the second floor. After fleeing with his family he made an attempt to

Marriage Ages Raised

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The days when a 16-year-old boy could marry a 14-year-old girl are over in Kentucky.

Gov. Bert Combs signed a bill Monday raising the minimum marriage age for males from 16 to 18 and females from 14 to 16.

Legislator Asks Firms Be Made Explain Ratings

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Television ratings "if not rigged are... misleading," an Uptate legislator charged today.

Assemblyman A. Bruce Manley (R-Chautauque) introduced in the Legislature a bill that would compel rating companies to disclose how they estimate the popularity of particular programs.

Manley said his measure would require "an honest, forthright explanation of how they reached their results."

Manley earlier introduced legislation that would give the state power to license television programs. That measure still is being studied in committee.

Manley said his rating bill would establish a system in broadcasting similar to that in newspaper publishing, where advertisers "have the Audit Bureau of Circulation, a reliable measurement of circulation."

Another bill introduced today included a measure that would grant physicians the right to use sirens on their automobiles when making emergency calls.

In presenting his rating bill, Manley charged that "the public is brainwashed by programs dictated by the untouchables of the rating organizations."

"The system of ratings," he said, "with all its mathematical uncertainties, has reached a point where broadcasters, the actor and performers and sponsors are virtually at the mercy of the 20-million-dollar annual surveys."

The siren bill was introduced by Assemblyman Grant W. Johnson (R-Ticonderoga).

Brasilia Is Planned City Minus Intersections

Brazil Plans Elaborate Reception For Ike on First Good Will Visit

Editor's Note — Americans regard as good neighbors the four countries President Eisenhower will visit in South America, but many Americans' knowledge of these neighbors is limited. To provide a pretour insight into the life of these countries, The Associated Press assigned Ben Bassett, the AP's foreign news editor, to visit all four and write about them. Today's story is about Brazil. Ensuing stories will focus on Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

By BEN BASSETT
Associated Press Foreign News Editor

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil is putting on its best summer-time smile for President Eisenhower.

Here below the equator the seasons reverse those in the United States.

This Portuguese-speaking land is first on the tour of four South American nations that Eisenhower starts next week. This is virtually a self-sufficient country, almost as big as the United States but with one-third the population.

Eisenhower will parade into both the main cities, Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, each with a population of about three million. He will be the first U.S. president to visit Brasilia, the nation's new capital.

Brasilia Planned City

With only a few thousand persons now, Brasilia is expected some day to surpass half a million. President Juscelino Kubitschek got its construction started in 1956. For many years Brazilians had been planning a new capital away from crowded and often steaming Rio de Janeiro. Kubitschek finally put it over. Brasilia is a planned city without intersections. It has been cut out of scrubland 600 miles northwest of Rio. Its plateau location gives it an annual temperature range of 35-75.

Two dozen impressive buildings, many of 10 stories, are nearing completion. Other government buildings are to come, along with the stores and movie houses a city must have. The whole arrangement, with buildings that are architecturally akin, wide malls and planned garden areas, gives a feeling of openness and orderliness.

One of the striking buildings already completed is Kubitschek's two-story presidential palace, where Eisenhower spends next Tuesday night. The glass and whitish marble of its walls, set off by reflecting pools and modernistic statuary, are a vast change from the gingerbread-strung palaces that dominate many capitals.

Millions Await Ike

Next day he will fly to Rio, where a million citizens—the Cariocas—likely will cheer him.

It is a cosmopolitan city offering wide contrasts. Squatter settlements, called favelas, dot some of its mountains. Nearby, in skyscrapers, much of the business of Brazil is done. It is a city with touches of Lisbon and Hong Kong, and perhaps a dash of New Orleans.

On his third day in Brazil Eisenhower will fly to Sao Paulo for another "Vive Ike" reception. From the airport he can see a skyline that would make any U.S. Chamber of Commerce drool. This industrial center is in the midst of a building boom. Office buildings and scores of new apartment buildings, of around 15 stories, are going up. The climate is more moderate than Rio's, and the people's energy and drive lead some visitors to call Sao Paulo the Chicago of Brazil.

Fly Today, Pay Later

The white collar worker in Brazil makes about $65 a month. A lot of people meet their bills by working two jobs. For the things in the stores are tempting, and today an ad invites you to fly away on a vacation abroad.

"Viaje agora...pague depois," it says.

In the years to come many Brazilians may fly now, pay later. That is, unless today's inflationary conditions bring the government to a point where it must impose some of the austerity that neighboring Argentina has put into effect.

Even if that happens, the optimistic Brazilians will make the most of it. Somebody will write a samba.

NEXT: Argentina.

Grain Keeps Up Milk Production, Fewer Cows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dairy-men continue to lean more and more on grain to keep up milk production with a declining number of dairy cows.

The number of dairy cows on farms Jan. 1 was down one per cent from a year earlier. Yet milk production in 1959 held at the previous year's level and showed a slight gain in January this year.

An Agriculture Department report showed today how the volume of milk output is being maintained. Dairy men are feeding grain to dairy cows at record rates. The volume being fed cows, as checked for one day this month, was 4 per cent larger than a year earlier. Helping to encourage greater use was a 4 per cent decline in prices of grain and concentrate feed.

Former Teacher Dies

OTTAWA (AP)—Mrs. G. S. R. Barton of Ottawa, a native of Batavia, N. Y., died Monday after a long illness.

She was the wife of Dr. G. S. H. Barton, who retired as deputy agriculture minister in 1949.

Mrs. Barton, the former Mabel Pauline Loveridge, had taught at the College of St. Anne de Bellevue, Que., prior to her marriage.

TOP MAN ON THE POLE—Husky Cherokee Indian artist Lelooska has his job cut out for him as he carves a totem pole near Portland, Ore. The 50-foot cedar log he's working on is 750 years old. Lelooska says Northwest Indians began totem making when white men first introduced metal tools.

Kessler Elected President of NY Dailies Group

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—William M. Kessler, general manager of the Gloversville Leader-Herald, today was elected president of the New York Associated Dailies.

He succeeds Paul L. Geibel, vice president of the Cortland Standard.

The 53-member newspaper organization held a one-day meeting here. The annual mid-winter session of the New York State Publishers Assn. follows Tuesday and Wednesday.

In a report to the Associated Dailies, Kessler said small daily newspapers are entering an era in which the major fundamental problem is keeping abreast of rapid technological developments. Many smaller newspapers already are printing in color, he said, and others are preparing to move into the color field.

"Color presses represent a major investment for newspapers in our organization," said Kessler. "Color printing means more advertising revenue, however, and is part of the smaller publisher's constant battle against rising costs."

Robert H. Nagel, who became publisher of the Batavia Daily News Saturday, was elected vice president of Associated Dailies. Donald J. Curran, business manager of the Hornell Tribune, was reelected secretary.

Bandit Gets $900, Leaves Money Trail

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—A masked, gun-toting holdup man grabbed more than $900 from a loan company office Monday night and left a trail of money in a hasty escape.

Police said the man, with a light-colored cloth mask over his face, entered the office and ordered two men and two women to face the wall.

He scooped the money from a cash drawer and fled, dropping several bills on the office floor and another on stairs leading to the street.

Police said the man got $930 from his three-minute holdup.

Asks $171,000 for Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has asked Senate Appropriations Committee permission to build an Army Reserve Center at Batavia, N. Y., at a cost of $171,000.

The request was part of an 11-million-dollar spending plan submitted Monday.

Spears Is Given Five Years for Theft of Auto

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Robert Vernon Spears, the heavily insured Dallas naturopath found alive two months after his reported death in the crash of an airliner, today was sentenced to the maximum of five years in federal prison for interstate auto theft.

Spears, 65, was picked up in Phoenix Jan. 20 by FBI agents and questioned several days in connection with the mysterious crash of a National Airlines plane Nov. 16 in the Gulf of Mexico.

U.S. Dist. Judge Dave Ling handed Spears the maximum sentence on the federal charge of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

Cast Is Announced
For Coach House
Play at GW School

James Flynn will play the leading role of Dan, the ingratiating personality lad with a secret passion in the forthcoming Coach House presentation of the famous melodrama, "Night Must Fall," at George Washington School Feb. 24-25 and 27. Dan, the debonair bellhop has a psychopathic penchant for "devious intrigue."

The elderly Mrs. Branson, one of Dan's intended and unsuspecting victims, will be portrayed by Eve Wulff. The cranky Mrs. Branson who is charmed by the guileful Dan, takes him into her Essex bungalow to work for and flatter her. This is where the conspiracy begins.

Rose Helen Mellert will be seen as Olivia, the old woman's niece who, guessing Dan's connection with strange happenings in the hotel, is nevertheless so fascinated by him that she saves him from apprehension.

Not intended as a mystery play, "Night Must Fall" is as replete with shivers, shudders and suspense as any "who-done-it"? One New York critic described the play as "a shocker, wholesale in its horrors, and a blood-curler for fair." One of the impressive facets of the play is the egomaniac's dilemma of wanting to boast of his cleverness, without being caught.

Margaret A. Kiff Wed to Kingston Man
At St. Joseph's Church Sunday at 3 P. M.

St. Joseph's Church, Kingston, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Margaret Aileen Kiff of West Hurley, to Thomas J. Dimicco of Kingston on Sunday, Feb. 14, at 3 p. m. The Rev. James V. Keating performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Kiff is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt A. Kiff of West Hurley. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Di Micco of Kingston.

For the occasion, the church was decorated with snapdragons and stephanotis.

Mrs. Alfred Nussbaum, soloist sang Ave Maria, and Mother, At Thy Feet I'm Kneeling, to the accompaniment of Mrs. Francis Rafferty, organist, who also played the traditional nuptial refrains.

The bride was attired in a gown of white silk organza fashioned with a basque bodice, shirred abbreviated sleeves, and a gently scooped neckline. The bouffant skirt terminated in a chapel length circular train. Bodice and skirt featured appliques of seed pearl-centered forget-me-nots. The French illusion fantasy veil was shirred to a circlet of waxed orange blossoms and she carried a circular arrangement of garnet red rosebuds centered in stephanotis with trailing ivy foliage.

Sister of the bride, Mary

Claire Kiff of West Hurley was the honor attendant and she wore a gown of white silk chiffon styled with an Empire bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a scooped neckline. The deep hemmed full skirt was waltz length and she wore a princess crown of seed pearls. She carried a small heart shaped arrangement of dark red Briarcliff roses with ivy foliage.

The junior bridesmaid, Carol Jane Marabell of Kingston was attired in a gown identical to that of the honor attendant.

Louis Di Micco of Kingston was the best man, and the ushers included John La Lima, Robert Mould, Mario Liquori, and James D. Di Peri, all of Kingston.

For the wedding journey to Bermuda, the bride chose for her traveling ensemble a black sheath dress with matching jacket, and a corsage of roses.

Upon their return they will make their home at 151 Harding Avenue.

The bride, a Kingston High School graduate, was named May Queen in 1957. She is employed at the State of New York National Bank, Kingston.

The bridegroom, a Kingston High School graduate, is employed at Terry Brick Corp., Flatbush.

The reception for 140 guests was held at Schoenag's Restaurant, Route 3W, Glasco.

An evening program of music will be held in the Ashokan Methodist Church Monday, Feb. 29, at 8 p. m. The Ulster County Chorus, a four-part singing group, will offer three numbers in one of its first public appearances. This group, under the able direction of Earl Proper, of Shokan, was organized in the fall of 1959 and includes members from Kingston as well as surrounding local communities.

The chorus now numbers approximately 30 persons, and their accompanist is Winifred Bateman, of Kingston.

Officers in the chorus include Mrs. Donald Osgood, president; Mrs. Al Moses, vice president; Arnold Reynolds, secretary; Louis Kricker, treasurer and Mrs. James Mercer, librarian.

In addition to the group numbers, there will be vocal solos by Mrs. Earl Proper and Mrs. Harry Kennedy plus vocal numbers by a double quartette. Instrumentally, Mrs. George Heidenstrom will render violin solos and Mrs. Larry Wincentsen will be featured at the organ.

This program is being sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. There will be no admission charge but a free-will offering will be taken, the proceeds from which will be used to promote the work of the Woman's Society. Refreshments will be served in the church school rooms immediately following the program.

Has Relatives Here

Montague Lupo, a senior at Dillon, S. C., High School, who has relatives in Kingston, has been declared the first nationwide winner of a talent search conducted by the Fund Insurance Companies with headquarters in San Francisco.

Miss Lupo is a granddaughter of Mrs. Ethel M. Jones of 112 Henry Street and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Tucker of Port Ewen.

The contest was sponsored by the W. B. Carmichael Agency in cooperation with John W. Fowler Jr., senior English teacher at Dillon High School. Miss Lupo's winning essay, "Gripe! Gripe! Gripe!" deals with the teen-age problem from the teen-age point of view. It will be published in the March issue of The Record, a general interest magazine published by Fircman's Fund Insurance Company. A $50 U. S. Savings Bond goes to the winning student.

Her victory was especially notable, according to Carmichael, "because her essay was in competition with many other entries from seniors throughout the country. Largely contributing to her 'win,' I understand, was her use of good English, her lively writing style and her clarity of presentation."

NEGLECTING GUESTS TO WASH DISHES

Dear Mrs. Post: What is your opinion of a hostess who washes the dishes as soon as dinner is over and her guests are still present? Several of my friends do this and I think it is most improper. When I invite people to my house I wouldn't think of washing dishes. I stack them neatly in the sink and continue to entertain my guests, and I feel that when I am a guest in their houses I should be shown the same courtesy. I would appreciate your comments on this matter.

Answer: You are quite right. For a hostess to wash the dishes while her guests are still present is not only discourteous to them, but also places them in the position of feeling that they should offer to help her.

Fiance's Family Have Not Called

Dear Mrs. Post: How can we stir my future in-laws to some action? I know they approve of me and I hold no grudge because they haven't come to see the family since our engagement was announced. Mother, however, does. I've told my fiance I think they're wrong not to come, but he shrugs and says they're shy people with strangers. Wouldn't it be all right for mother to encourage their coming?

Answer: The man's family should go without waiting for an invitation of course, as soon as the engagement is announced. The families being strangers only makes this visit more imperative. However, quite obviously in this situation, the best thing for your mother to do is write the other mother a note and ask them to your house at a definite time.

Titles on Checks

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) When a check is written to someone eminent or elderly, someone let's say you wouldn't think of addressing by first name, is the check still written to Mary Jones without any title at all? (2) Might not some people think this disrespectful?

Answer: (1) Yes. (2) No, because the check should be made to each person's legal signature—which is without title.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-19, entitled, "Mistakes Made in the Name of Etiquette," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

New Hats Help Bridge the Seasons

Heading from winter into spring, a girl needs a new hat to bridge that gap from season-to-season. Here are two suggestions by top designers. Turban in pink-and-red by Miss May (left) has lavish cluster of bright red roses springing from folds of pink satin. Striking tiara (right) is the design of Laddie Northridge for Edgar J. Lorie. Educators Discuss Rosendale Woman's Club Scholastic Award; Members to Vote Subject

John Thornton, principal of Marletown School and Frederick Dippel of New Paltz, were guests of the Woman's Club of Rosendale at the February meeting held at the Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219 American Legion Hall in Tillson.

Also on the panel were the Mmes. George Moylan, a member of the club's scholastic committee and Mrs. Gene Van Winkle, president. Members of the panel discussed the disposition of the scholastic award given to the child in each of the Town of Rosendale elementary schools who has made the most improvement. This includes Creek Locks, Maple Hill, Rosendale, Cottickill, St. Peter's and Tillson Schools. Members of the panel expressed the opinion that the purpose of award given for most improvement should be continued since this is usually the only time some children receive any type of award. Concerning the $10 usually given, it was felt that, since the club now has a scholarship given to a high school graduate which was started last year, the money, formerly used for scholastic awards, might accrue to the scholarship to increase it or to make another award available to a child planning to continue with his education in college or nursing school. The panel members recommended that, other than money, the award be made in the form of a pin, certificate or plaque. Club members will vote on the topic at the next meeting.

It was decided that Mrs. Thomas Burns, chairman of the club operated Loan Closet, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Mastro, attend the next meeting of the Rosendale Grange to explain the club's need in regard to space.

Dangerous Plaything

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The cannonball bore the date 1863, and it seemed harmless enough to two boys rolling the 95-pound ball down their drive. The rolling game continued until someone got the idea it might be dangerous. It was. The Jacksonville Naval Air Station found the ball contained 2½ pounds of explosive powder. Mrs. M. D. Moody, whose sons were playing with it, said the ball was among relics collected by her father.

Two Testimonial Dinners Slated For Judge Barnes

Judge Irving C. Barnes is to be feted at two testimonial dinners upon his recent retirement from Justice of the Peace, it was announced this week.

He has served New Paltz citizens faithfully, conscientiously, and meritoriously for well over 40 years as justice of the peace. Firm in his convictions, but always fair in his judgement, and ever ready to lend a helping hand to neighbor, friend or organization, Judge Barnes is one of New Paltz's most valued senior citizens.

On February 24, Huguenot Grange is honoring Judge Barnes with a testimonial dinner at Methodist Church Hall at 7:30 p. m.

He is one of the Grange's oldest members. Not only is he a longtime Grange member, but one who has always been faithful and hard working for its cause. He has held many offices in this organization. He is also a member of the County, State, and National Grange, and holds an enviable record in all.

On March 5 at Ireland Corners Hotel, New Paltz Republican Club is also sponsoring a testimonial dinner in his honor. Benjamin Matteson will act as master of ceremonies at this event.

Howard St. John, former district attorney of Ulster County will be the speaker for the evening. St. John, a Kingston lawyer, who has been active in legal circles for a number of years, will highlight the testimonial program.

Dinner chairman for this event will be Mrs. Bruce Conklin assisted by Mrs. Marie Fisher, Mrs. David Jewett Jr., Edward Crans and Thomas McKinney, President of New Paltz Republican Club.

An invitation is extended to all who would like to pay tribute to Judge Barnes at both these dinners. Tickets for the Republican Club Dinner may be obtained from any club member.

Large Audience Hears Allen Talk On Oak Ridge

A record crowd turned out at the recent meeting of the Study Club to hear Dr. and Mrs. Allen talk about their life at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Fred DuBois and her committee, Miss Helena Olds, Mrs. Carleton Van De Water and Mrs. Charles Huntington.

Dr. Allen is a past head of the science division at the college here and is now at the State University College of Education, Albany. Mrs. Allen is a past president of the Study Club and member of the League of Women Voters.

Dr. Allen opened his talk by explaining the Herculean task set before him on his first day at the Institute at Oak Ridge. He was given three days to have six laboratory experiments ready for a group of industrial scientists. He explained that the Institute of Nuclear Studies was composed of four divisions. He was primarily in the medical division where his laboratory was located and where they did research in cancer.

Mrs. Allen took the members, by means of slides, inside of what was until 10 years ago, the walled city of Oak Ridge. She showed the natural setting—a city in a valley surrounded by mountains; the cemeteries, houses, a combination of asbestos and cement; the yellow brick buildings; the newness of a planned city.

From 1945, in its incipency, Oak Ridge was a child of the government — fed, housed and walled by the government. Now the inhabitants are building a life for themselves and their enthusiasm is boundless, as shown by their social and community life, she pointed out.

B of E Are Guests Of Campus Board

New Paltz Central School Board were guests of the Campus School Board at a dinner meeting held at the college recently.

D. Bond and Dr. William Hagerty represented the Campus School and all members of the other board were present.

Richard Fall and Joseph Foley were appointed a committee to formulate plans for the Teacher Recognition Day which is to be held May 17.

Frederick Dippel, supervising principal, announced that the date for the next meeting of the Mid-Hudson Study Council will be March 24.

Following the dinner meeting, the central school board stayed to conduct a special meeting of the board.

Others present at the meeting were: President Mrs. Katherine Jacobson, Charles Van Alst, John Ashton Jr., George Lanflick, Walter Dyer, Gerald DuBois, Dr. William Hagerty and business manager, Frank Hamilton.

Dr. Pyle to Speak At Installation Of CC Officers

Dr. Robert Pyle, dean of the college here, will be guest speaker at New Paltz Chamber of Commerce installation dinner at Emile's Mountain House Feb. 22.

This was announced at the regular meeting of the Chamber held recently. Dr. Pyle's topic will be "What the Chamber Means to Me."

Joseph Tantillo was appointed by President Harry Phillips to the chamber board of trustees to fill the unexpired term of Joseph Anzelone.

Mrs. Marion Lane reported on the meeting of Huguenot Grange concerning objectionable literature on the newsstand in this area. Members of the Chamber elected Mrs. Lane as official representative of the Chamber for any action taken on this subject.

It was also announced that David Corwin, New Paltz attorney, will be guest speaker at the next monthly meeting to be held March 14. Corwin's topic will be "Disincorporation of the Village."

Library Accepted In Mid-Hudson Cooperative Unit

The trustees of Elting Memorial Library have announced that the library has been accepted by the cooperative Mid-Hudson Libraries system as its 36th member.

This system embraces libraries in Columbia, Dutchess, Putnam, Greene and Ulster counties. It is a federation of autonomous libraries in which each participating member continues to operate with its own board of trustees and its own local funds. Its purpose is to expand and improve library service without putting the burden of cost on individual libraries. It will be completely subsidized by the State Education Department under the Library law of 1958 and will eventually establish a minimum of 100,000 volumes of adult non-fiction available to all members.

Films and record collections will also be made and there will be many technical services which will be available. There will be a delivery system to member libraries at stated intervals.

The trustees also gratefully acknowledge a gift of $50 from the Fair-Rite Products Corporation, Wallkill. Richard Parker is the president of this corporation. With the expanding use of the library, additional funds are constantly needed and welcomed, the trustees said.

Louis LeFevre was welcomed as a new member of the book committee. The following members are continuing to serve:

Mrs. Harriet Cunningham, Mrs. Janet Bracken, Miss Jennie Lee Dann, Mrs. Mary Jane Jewett, Mrs. Elizabeth Leaning, Mrs. Marion Pine, Mrs. Nancy Wullschlegel and William Heidgerd. The members of the book committee will welcome any suggestions of book titles to be considered for purchase.

KHS Plays at Monticello Tonight in DUSO Cage Feature

Locals Need Win To Keep Title Hopes Alive

By ED PALLADINO
It's a do or die proposition tonight for the Kingston High basketball team as the Maroon players journey to Monticello for a meeting with the DUSO League's co-leaders. Here is the situation. If Monticello scores a victory over the locals, it would put Kingston two games behind in the loss column with only three to play and ruin hopes for a league title. However, if the KHS cagers score a victory, it would leave the crown still up for grabs between Monticello, Poughkeepsie, Kingston. The Monties would have to win the rest of their games and then knock off Poughkeepsie on March 1 to force what could be a triple tie. Confusing but possible.

In other action tonight on the far-flung DUSO circuit, Ellenville is at Poughkeepsie, Port Jervis at Fallsburgh and Liberty at Middletown.

The standings:
Team Won Lost
Poughkeepsie 9 2
Monticello 9 2
Kingston 9 3
Newburgh 8 5
Ellenville 6 6
Liberty 6 7
Middletown 5 6
Port Jervis 1 10
Fallsburgh 0 12

Armstead Is Hot
The Monties won a 59-58 squeaker from Kingston back in January when ace Leo Armstead made a basket four seconds from the end. Since then Armstead has been on a personal scoring spree and now has 232 points in 11 starts for a 21.1 mark. He's a cinch for the All-DUSO team.

Backing up Armstead is sophomore Steve Schurer, the club's outside threat. He has 176 points in 11 starts for an average of 16.0 a game. Schurer had given the task of guarding Armstead. The KHS ace defensive performer held Leo to 12 points in the contest at the Kate Walton. He was all over Armstead and covered him like a rug.

The Sullivan County community, known for its harness racing during the summer months, has been hit by the tremendous showing of the Monties and a sellout crowd has been anticipated for this meeting between the clubs since early in the season.

Big Challenge
One thing is certain. If the Kingston players don't meet the biggest challenge confronting them so far this season, they can stop talking about a DUSO crown. Even should Poughkeepsie lose one of its remaining games, Joe Uhl and company will still be out of contention unless a victory is gained tonight.

In the other circuit starts, Poughkeepsie is rated a solid choice over Ellenville, the Fallsburgh-Port Jervis tilt is a tossup as the Comets seek to end a 48-game losing streak and Middletown is a shaky favorite over Liberty at home.

Friday's action will have Poughkeepsie at Port Jervis, Fallsburgh at Kingston, Middletown at Ellenville and Monticello at Newburgh.

ISN'T HE EVER GOING TO STOP?

Ohio State May Complete Season With No Defeats

Triggered by a deadeye trio of sophomores, Ohio State's Buckeyes are powering their way toward what could be the first unbeaten season in Big Ten college basketball in 17 years.

The hunch is there could be a national championship at the end of the drive.

Fourth-rated nationally, Ohio State fired to its 10th straight Big Ten victory, its 11th straight success and an overall 18-2 record Monday night with a 109-81 rout of formidable Illinois (13-5).

It was the first time an Ohio State team had managed to beat the Illini at Illinois since 1945 and again it was the three sophomores — 6-8 Jerry Lucas, 6-5 John Havlicek, and 6-2 Mel Nowell — who carried the brunt of the attack.

Lucas scored 31 points, Havlicek 29 and Nowell 17, accounting for 77 of the total that helped the Bucks retain their pace as the top scoring major college team.

With a 10-0 record to 6-3 for runner-up Indiana, Ohio State has all but wrapped up its first conference championship since 1950 and the subsequent berth in the post-season NCAA tournament.

Colorado and Kansas State, in a pair of squeakers, remained tied for the Big Eight championship. Auburn stayed on Georgia Tech's heels in the torrid Southeastern Conference race, and Ohio U. whipped Toledo 71-67 to take undisputed first place in the Mid-American loop in other key Monday games.

St. John's of New York, expected to be added to the National Invitation Tournament field today, ran its winning streak to nine for a 15-5 record by pasting CCNY 93-67, and Xavier of Ohio (16-6), with an outside tournament chance, cuffed Marquette 79-75 in important non-conference play.

Colorado nipped Missouri 63-62 for a 7-2 Big Eight record matching Kansas State, which edged Iowa State 72-70 on Wally Frank's basket with 25 seconds left. Kansas stayed in Big Eight contention, rolling to a 6-3 record as Wayne Hightower's free-throw after the final buzzer gave the Jayhawks' a 54-53 victory over Oklahoma.

Auburn edged Tulane in overtime 53-51 for a 9-2 SEC record to 9-1 for idle Georgia Tech, while Mississippi State downed Florida 81-75, LSU spilled Alabama 66-53, and Mississippi nipped Georgia 65-63 in overtime in other SEC games.

Wrestling Tourney Saturday At College in Middletown
Kingston and Saugerties High Schools will be two of the entries in the first annual Orange County Community College invitational high school wrestling tournament, scheduled for Saturday at the college in Middletown. Eight schools have submitted entries for the tournament, which is being handled by Stan Nevins, wrestling coach at the college.

Two mats will be in use throughout the matches, which will start at 10:30 Saturday morning. Weigh-ins will take place from 9:30 until 10:15. The semi-finals will start at 1 o'clock and the finals are scheduled to begin at 4:30. A team trophy and individual awards will follow the final match.

Weigh-ins will be conducted under the supervision of the tournament director. Weights will be 103-112, 120-127, 133-138, 145-154, 165 and 175 and also unlimited.

Uniforms must comply with New York State Public High School Athletic Assn. regulations. Drawing for opponents will be done under the supervision of the Athletic Department of the Community College.

Team championships will be determined by first and second places and the totaling of individual points. No points will be awarded if advancement is on a bye.

Schools entered, in addition to Kingston and Saugerties, include Suffern, Wappingers Falls, Pine Plains, Oakwood, Beacon and Otisville Training School.

Zulueta Meets Donnelly Tonight
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Orlando Zulueta, looking for another shot at Joe Brown's lightweight title, meets unbeaten Jackie Donnelly tonight in a 10-rounder at Memorial Auditorium.

Donnelly, a Buffalo product unbeaten in 19 fights, hopes for a win over Zulueta to push him into the lightweight ratings.

Zulueta feels that a win over Donnelly and a ranking opponent would put him in line for another title shot. Brown beat Zulueta on a TKO in the 15th round of their championship fight.

Welterweight Joe Micelli, of New York, faces Gene Tortorice, of Niagara Falls, in the 10-round co-feature.

Marquard Reaped Benefits From Face's Winning Streak

By LESTER J. BIEDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
PITTSBURGH, Pa.—(NEA)—

Roy Face didn't quite catch up to Rube Marquard's record of 19 straight pitching victories last summer but Face finally caught up with Marquard face to face this winter on the banquet circuit.

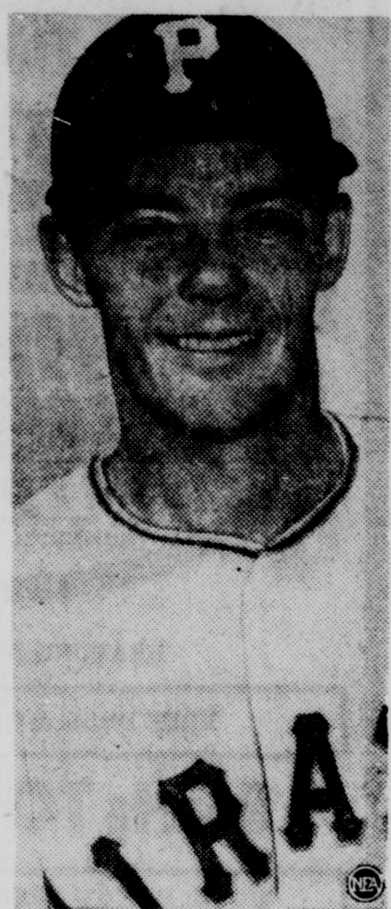

Face, you know, won 17 in a row last summer, then lost to the Dodgers in Los Angeles in September. But he won his final game, making his record read: 18-1. Thus, had he reversed that decision at the hands of the Dodgers, he might have finished up with 19 straight.

But Marquard was just as happy to see Face as Face was to meet the left-hander who set the modern record back in 1912.

"You gave me more publicity last season than I actually had when I won those 19 straight games in 1912," Marquard told Face. "Every time you pitched and won after you got started on that streak, my name would pop up in the stories."

"People would ask me for details of my streak and it kept me alive. It was good to have people paying some attention to me after all these years."

Face was deeply touched by his meetings with Marquard, especially since Rube personally made a presentation to Face at one of the banquets.

Elroy Face

"I could see how proud he was of that record," the Pirate ace related, "and after seeing what it means to him after all these years, I told him I was glad I didn't break it. And I hope I never do."

"I told Rube I'd rather win 15 lose one, then win 15 more to preserve his streak. I even had my picture taken with Marquard and had him autograph it for me."

Face's exploits last summer paid off this winter. The banquet circuit gave him a fast ride and by the time he left for Florida, Face had accumulated almost 15 trophies.

His final award will come on opening day at Forbes Field when he receives the Chilly Doyle plaque and Harvey Haddix accepts the Harvey Haddix plaque.

However, the best payoff for Face was in his 1960 contract. He was ticketed for a raise of some $10,000 and if he received it, this made him the highest salaried Pirate, in the $35,000-a-year neighborhood.

Seven years ago Face was earning $2,500 with Fort Worth in the Texas League, then, after being drafted by the Pirates was signed to a $5,000 minimum contract in 1953. In 1954, he went to New Orleans, returned to the Bucs in 1955 for $6,000 a year and now five years later is being paid six times more.

Bearcats Must Wait For Title

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bearcats, who have been rated the nation's top college basketball team since the start of the season, may have to wait until March 9 to prove it for the mythical national championship.

That's the date of the projected title playoff for the Missouri Valley Conference title and an NCAA tournament berth. At present, both Cincy, and second-ranked Bradley, are tied for first place and there doesn't seem to be anyone in the Mo Valley capable of displacing them.

Sportswriters and broadcasters voting in the Associated Press poll gave Cincy 79 first place votes after the Cats used a tremendous 11-point surge in the final five minutes last Friday night to get by St. Louis, 61-58. Bradley received only 21, after beating Drake 68-63 Saturday night, and Houston earlier in the week.

But the Braves received plenty of second and third place votes to amass 1,415 points compared to Cincy's 1,661.

The first 10 teams with points on a 10-9-8 etc basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Cincinnati (79) 1,661
2. Bradley (21) 1,415

NBA Strips Archie Moore Of Light Heavy Crown

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. has lifted old Archie Moore's light heavyweight title and is casting glances at the crown worn by welterweight Don Jordan.

Moore, at his home in San Diego, Calif., was so upset on hearing of the NBA action Monday that he went to bed and, on the advice of his doctor, took sedatives.

He snapped back bitterly at the announcement by NBA President Anthony Macaroni's announcement the title is being vacated because Moore failed to defend it within the prescribed six months.

"It took an undertaker (Macaroni's occupation) to take the title away from me," he said. "That's something a challenger was never able to do."

It is for the same reason inactivity that the NBA is keeping close track of welterweight champion Jordan. He was warned he must sign for a title defense against one of the top four challengers by Feb. 16 (Monday) or his title would be taken away.

Macaroni said Monday night he has not heard, officially, of any Jordan defense, but the Los Angeles fighter could have signed and the NBA not yet have been notified.

On the light heavy crown, worn by Moore since Dec. 17, 1952, Macaroni said details on a successor will be worked out in a meeting in New York March 5. Any plans definitely will include Harold Johnson, the No. 1 challenger, Macaroni said.

Moore and his manager, Jack Kearns, were "given ample warning and sufficient time," to arrange for a defense, Macaroni said.

"It is evident that Moore's plans are for a third chance at the heavyweight title, rather than a defense of his 175-pound crown," he added.

The NBA Executive Council passed a resolution Dec. 12 that Moore must defend against Johnson not later than Feb. 12 or the title would be declared vacant. Moore and Kearns showed no inclination to honor the order, Macaroni said.

Moore, whose age is variously listed as 46 and 43 in record books, is still considered the champion in California and New York, which do not belong to the NBA. Massachusetts, another non-NBA state, is scheduled to take action on Moore's status Friday.

Glover Is Tied With Fred Smith In Hockey Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland's Fred Glover climaxed a tremendous surge in the American Hockey League scoring race by tying Floyd Smith of Springfield for first place—each with 70 points—AHL statistics showed today.

Four weeks ago, Glover was eighth in scoring with 44 points on 20 goals and 24 assists, while Smith was No. 1 with 58 points. In the interim, Glover has tallied nine times and assisted on 17 others. This is the first time in 14 weeks that the Springfield star has not had undisputed possession of the AHL's top scoring spot.

Fleck Returns To Winner Fold After Five Years

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jack Fleck, who for five years was called professional golfer's forgotten flash-in-the-pan, was back in the winner's circle today after a victory in an 18-hole playoff for top money in the $22,500 Phoenix Open.

Fleck, of Los Angeles, came from behind twice Monday to beat Bill Collins, Crystal River, Fla., by three strokes.

Fleck covered the 6,585-yard Phoenix Country Club course in a 3-under-par 68. Collins shot even par.

Back in June 19, 1955, at the Olympic Club course in San Francisco, Fleck rose from professional golf obscurity to national prominence by winning the U. S. Open in a dramatic playoff with Ben Hogan. After that, Fleck dropped into obscurity again.

But Fleck, who played in only a few tournaments during the next four years, returned to the touring trail this season.

He collected $3,150 Monday plus a share of receipts from a gallery of 2,500. That was Fleck's first victory since the 1955 open, and the forgotten man was stirring old golf memories.

Collins pocketed $2,100 plus his share of the receipts.

The two tied at 273 — 11 strokes under par — in the tourney's regulation 72-holes.

The turning point in the playoff came on the par four 14th hole. The golfers were all even.

Collins drove into the trees. His recovery shot smashed into a trap. He blasted over the green. He chipped back, the ball again sailing over the green and into the same trap. He finally got out of the trap, and sank his putt for a double bogey 6. Fleck was down in four.

To put the match on ice, Fleck sank a 6-foot birdie putt on No. 15 and ran home a 40-foot putt for another birdie on No. 16.

Fleck said, "At no point did I think I had the match won. It's wonderful to get back into the winner's circle. It's been a long time."

State Income Tax Refund Checks Mailed

ALBANY, Feb. 16—State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy announced today that 9,252 State income tax refund checks totalling $305,280 have been mailed to New York taxpayers.

The checks are part of an estimated 3,000,000 that will be sent to New York taxpayers as 1959 State income tax returns are filed and processed. They will represent about $50,000,000 in refund payments, Mr. Murphy said.

Commissioner Murphy pointed out that early filing results in early payment of refunds. April 15 is the deadline. He also stressed the importance of filing State tax returns with the proper District Tax Offices to facilitate processing and speedy refund payments. Addresses of the District Tax Offices and the counties each serves are listed on page 2 of the State income tax packet.

Niagara's Butler 5th in Scoring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Niagara's Al Butler, in the thick of the nation's major college basketball scoring race, is earning his title of the "Purple Eagle with the golden touch."

Butler scored 39 Monday night as Niagara staged off a late rally by Duquesne to register its 10th victory in 18 starts, 71-67.

The high-flying junior was fifth in the latest national rankings.

After leading by 17 with six minutes to play, Niagara saw its lead dwindle as Duquesne stole the ball repeatedly. The Iron Dukes shaved it to five points, 68-63, with 1:20 left in the game before Len Whelan put it on ice with a driving layup.

In other games the University of Buffalo downed Siena, 77-60, at Buffalo and Brockport State trimmed Buffalo State, 89-73, at Brockport.

Nick Shoshko paced Buffalo with 22 points as the Bulls racked up their ninth win in 13 outings. Gary Smith and Pat Martone led Siena with 16 and 10 points. It was Siena's 14th loss in 17 games.

Dick Kraft of Brockport set a new home court record with 38 points on 13 field goals and 12 free tosses. He was 10th among the nation's small college scorers before Monday night's game. Brockport is now 8-5 and Buffalo State has a 3-17 record.

Woman Is Hurt As Auto Crashes Porch in Hurley

A Kerhonkson woman was injured at 3:15 p. m. Monday when the 1960 Station wagon she was driving went out of control on a curve on Route 209 at Hurley and crashed into the Hurley Reformed Church parsonage.

Mrs. Sadie Chait, who was driving a vehicle owned by the Chait Ford Agency, Kerhonkson, complained of injuries to the left arm and said she was to be treated by her family physician, according to State Trooper David Wachtel, Lake Katrine, who investigated.

Wachtel said Mrs. Chait was driving in a northerly direction and negotiating the curve near the Reformed Church when a truck passed. She lost control and the station wagon left the highway and plowed into the parsonage porch, knocking out the supports and causing extensive damage, troopers said.

Sponsor Recalls It Reprieve Is Given Rockefeller on Welfare Measure

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller had a "reprieve" from the Legislature today on reaching a decision on a controversial welfare bill passed by Republican majorities in both houses.

The GOP governor was reported under strong pressure to sign and veto the measure, which would eliminate a requirement that social-welfare investigators have a college degree.

However, one sponsor recalled the bill.

The sponsors of the measure are two prominent Republicans—Assembly Majority Leader Charles A. Schoenbeck Jr. and Sen. Earl Brydges of Niagara County, chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

They held their proposal would relieve a shortage of welfare investigators, allow better policing of relief rolls and save millions in welfare costs.

Opponents of the measure, including the State Welfare Department, hold the change would lower standards for welfare workers and reduce the effectiveness of relief programs.

Ordinarily, the governor has 10 days in which to act on a bill sent to him during the legislative session. If he does not sign it, it becomes law.

The 10 days on the welfare bill would have expired today. However, Brydges recalled the measure. This means it was returned to the Legislature and had not been on the governor's desk 10 days.

Brydges said no deadline had been set for returning it to Rockefeller. The senator said he had recalled the bill on request of the governor's counsel, who has asked more time for study.

Doctors May Give Elizabeth Final Pre-Natal Today

By DENNIS NEEDLE

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth's four doctors today were expected to give their royal patient a final examination before the birth of her third child.

It has been a week since the doctors visited the 33-year-old Queen at Buckingham Palace.

Since then she has taken a daily walk with her dogs through the wintry palace gardens, signed state papers and dealt with personal mail.

"The Queen is extremely well and leading a normal but quiet life," a palace spokesman reported Monday night.

Her physicians — Lord Evans, Sir John Weir, John H. Peel and Vernon Hall — have been on a standby alert since Monday.

They were expected to advise the monarch today to move down from her apartments to the palace's Belgian suite, where the baby is to be born. Then it will be up to Sister Helen Rowe, the Queen's maternity nurse, to recall them when the birth is imminent.

That could be anytime this week, even as late as Saturday, according to the palace.

Security measures were tightened at the palace.

Pledges Against Housing Bias Are Slow in Broome

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—A drive is under way in Broome County churches to obtain pledges against discrimination in private housing. But first response was reported slow.

The pledges were distributed to Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish congregations under sponsorship of the county committee of the State Commission Against Discrimination and various church groups.

Church-goers were asked to pledge they would welcome into their neighborhoods persons of good character, regardless of color, creed or national origin. They also were asked to promise not to discriminate against property-buyers who were members of minority groups.

The slow start over the weekend was attributed in part to the decreased church attendance because of a snow storm.

In support of the drive, a letter was read in many of the county's Catholic churches from the Most Rev. Msgr. Walter A. Foery, bishop of the Syracuse Diocese.

Bishop Foery's letter said, "We must not in justice or in truth act as if all the people of one race or nationality make bad neighbors, while all others make good neighbors." The bishop added that the "upgrading of people does not necessarily mean the downgrading of a neighborhood."

However, not all the Catholic churches distributed the pledge cards.

The Rt. Rev. John P. Phelan, pastor of St. Catherine's Church in Hillcrest, said:

"We didn't go in for that at all. We don't ask people to sign pledges (saying) they won't commit murder or adultery."

He added: "Let the guilty sign the pledges."

Various Protestant ministers described the response of their congregations as "encouraging" for the number of people who attended services. Two rabbis described the response as "very good."

Nixon Will Enter Wisconsin Vote

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will enter the Wisconsin presidential preference primary April 5, Harvey V. Higley of Marinette announced today.

Nixon wrote a letter to Higley, chairman of the Wisconsin Committee for Nixon for President. The vice president visited the state a week ago.

"I appreciate the generous sentiments which you expressed in your letter requesting consent for your committee to enter my name in the Wisconsin presidential primary, and I am pleased to accede to your request," Nixon wrote.

"It is my hope that your committee and members of both political parties will make an aggressive effort to get out a maximum vote among all the citizenry in both your primary and the general election."

Nixon is the third major candidate and the first Republican to enter the primary. Democratic hopefuls, Sens. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), entered last month.

Wisconsin voters will elect 31 delegates to the National Democratic Convention, while the state will send 30 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Rhee Is Assured Re-election, His Chief Foe Dies

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Tough old Syngman Rhee has been assured of re-election to his fourth term as president of South Korea by the death of his chief opponent.

Without a change in election laws, the opposition Democratic party cannot nominate a replacement for Chough Pyong-ok, 65, who died suddenly Monday in Washington, where he had been recuperating from abdominal surgery. The election is March 15.

One major newspaper, Donga Ilbo, said in an editorial that Rhee's Liberal party, which has a majority in the National Assembly, should give the Democrats a chance to name another candidate. But Supreme Court Justice Kim Too-il, chairman of the Central Election Committee, said it is impossible for the Democrats to put up a substitute.

Lena Horne, Coast Executive Have Spat

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) Negro singer Lena Horne was involved in a spat Monday night with a Los Angeles business executive. She claimed he had made remarks about her race.

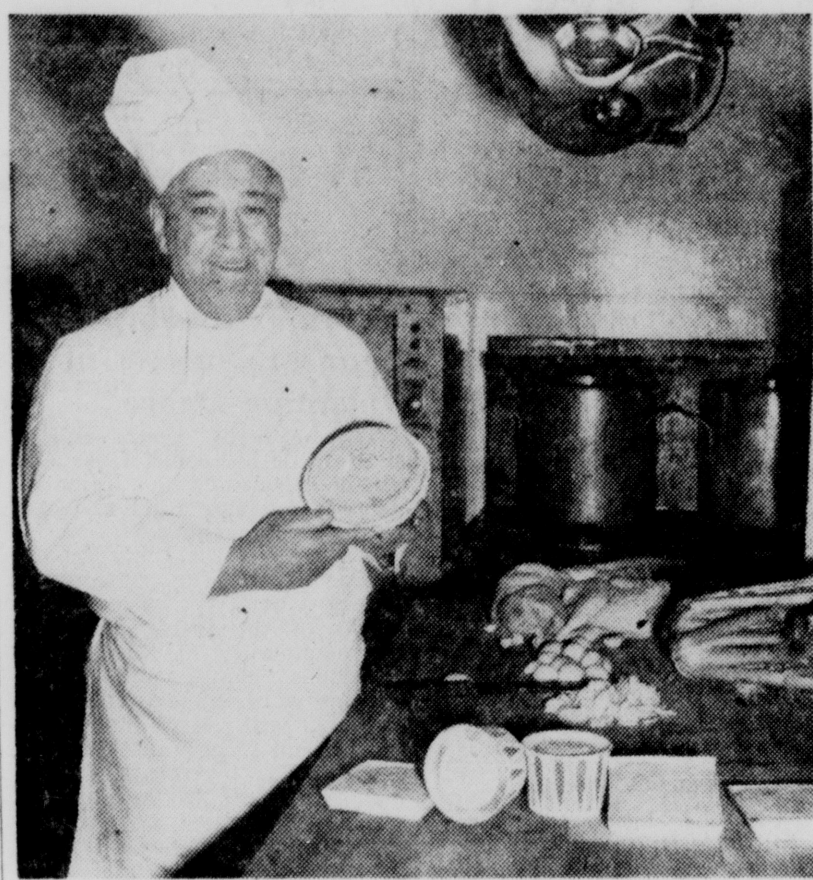

The argument occurred at the Luau, a plush Beverly Hills night-spot, police said.

When they arrived on the scene, officers said they found an angry Miss Horne and a bleeding customer, who was nursing a small gash over his left eye. He was identified as Harvey St. Vincent, who described himself as vice president of a Los Angeles engineering firm.

VOLS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS—St. Remy Fire Company will begin its drive for membership March 1, it was announced today by Edward Martin, volunteer company president. With pumper apparatus and fire station are

AN ARTIST OF THE KITCHEN—A combination of farming and cooking know-how is the basis of a recently established prepared-foods business, locally operated, whose products are becoming familiar to shoppers on both sides of the Hudson River. Irving Kalish, well known Woodstock resident, is president of the Astor Chef Kitchens, Inc., of that community, which produces frozen and ready-to-use food dishes. Kalish has operated the Kalish Poultry Farm on the Woodstock-Saugerties Road the last 25 years. "Our chef, Pat Maddaloni (shown above) is truly an artist of the kitchen," Kalish said. The firm's products are now offered in markets in Kingston, Woodstock, Phoenixia and Rhinebeck. Maddaloni, a chef with 37 years experience, formerly worked at the Hotel Astor, New York City and at Grossinger's, Liberty.

Boy Scout Troop 12 Corps To Play at Scout Jamboree

National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America invited Boy Scout Troop 12 Drum Corps for its second appearance at the national scout jamboree to be held at Colorado Springs this summer.

The invitation was extended to the group in recognition of its high rating in various competitions.

Plan Benefit
To defray the costs of transporting Troop 12 to the jamboree, the Mothers Club of the troop is sponsoring the ticket sale for the Coach House Players presentation, "Night Must Fall," to be held at George Washington School February 24, 25, and 27.

The play is described as a spine tingling thriller written by Emylin Williams. The cast includes the Rev. Herald C. Swazy, Eve Wulf, Rose Helen Mollert, Dixon McGrath, Eloise Gardner, Harriet Engelen, Gilda Zalesak, John Quimby and James Flynn. The production is under the direction of Houston Richard. Curtain time will be 8:30 p. m.

Tickets are now available at the following places of business:

Becks Broadway Market, 622 Broadway; Greenwald's Shoe Store, 286 Fair Street; Rossi's Music Store, 59 North Front Street; Shapiro's Paint Store, 63 North Front Street.

Mrs. Raymond Coles, Mothers Club president appointed Mrs. Milton Cohen, Mrs. Clifford Bell, and Mrs. Herbert K. Greenwald on the committee in charge of arrangements.

The troop drum corps participated in the national jamboree in 1957.

Leave for West on July 16
They will leave from Albany on July 16, and en route will visit Niagara Falls, Detroit, Chicago, Edgemont, S. D., where they will take a tour of the Black Hills. Visits will be made to Wind Cave National Park, Custer State Park, Mt. Rushmore Memorial and Sylvan Lake. The itinerary will include Yellowstone National Park, Denver, and Colorado Springs, July 21.

Nearly 57,000 scouts will gather there to celebrate the 50th anniversary of scouting.

The program will include air shows by the Air Force, rodeos, classes on conservation and other activities.

TOGETHER IN COURT—New York heiress Roberta (Roni) Orr sits beside her husband, Albert Brady, at Miami Beach hearing. The couple eloped more than six months ago and claim they were married in Mississippi. Brady, 26, is charged with abduction. Roberta, 17, is expecting a child in July. (AP Wirephoto).

Khrushy Regrets Short Burma Stay

RANGOON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutralist Burma today on the second stop of his four-nation Asian tour.

Top government officials headed by President U Win Maung and Premier Ne Win greeted the stocky Soviet leader as he descended from the giant Ilyushin turboprop airliner that brought him from India.

Welcomed as Friend

Maung welcomed Khrushchev "not as a stranger but as a friend who has come again for the purpose of strengthening the existing ties of friendship which you helped to forge during your first visit (in 1956)."

Khrushchev in reply expressed regret that his stay would be short but said he and the Burmese officials would discuss "some of the important problems of our time which deeply agitate the peoples of the Soviet Union and Burma."

"The most burning problem facing all nations and governments at present is the attainment of universal and stable peace," he added.

1,000 at Airport

About 1,000 persons were at the airport to greet Khrushchev, and only small groups were along the route from the airport to the Presidential Palace, where the Soviet leader had lunch with Maung.

Following a 36-hour stay, Khrushchev moves on to Indonesia, then Afghanistan.

The Premier's departure from Calcutta ended a five-day Indian visit that many observers felt did not measure up to expectations.

A columnist for one of Calcutta's most influential newspapers, Amita Bazar Patrika, noted the public turnout for Khrushchev was far less than the wildly cheering crowds which greeted President Eisenhower last December.

The major Khrushchev theme the last two days of his visit was that Western economic aid is designed to hold India in "imperialist, economic slavery."

Khrushchev insisted the Soviet Union renders aid only to build industries.

"We have always taken the position it is our policy to meet anybody and everybody to find a peaceful solution of our problems," he declared.

Chessman Shifts Fight for Life To Supreme Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's fight for life shifted today to Washington, D.C., and the U.S. Supreme Court.

With Chessman scheduled to die in the San Quentin gas chamber at 10 a.m. Friday, Sacramento attorney Rosalie Asher was in the nation's capital seeking a Supreme Court justice to ask for a writ of review and permission to file an original writ of habeas corpus. Both would carry requests for a stay of execution, said Chessman's other attorney, George T. Davis. The high court is in recess until March 1.

The 38-year-old convict-author, convicted in Los Angeles in 1948 of robbery and kidnap charges involving forcing two women into unnatural sex acts, has had seven stays of execution in his 11½ year-old battle waged from death row. He lost another appeal Monday when a three-man panel of the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals refused him a stay of execution and upheld its chief justice's earlier ruling refusing him a certificate of probable cause for appeal.

Paar Returning To Show March 7

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC announced today that Jack Paar has agreed to return to his television show March 7 after a three-week vacation.

The network issued this statement here in behalf of NBC President Robert Kintner:

"Bob Sarnoff, chairman of the National Broadcasters' Association, and I met in Florida today with Jack Paar. On behalf of his large and loyal audience we asked Jack to return to the Jack Paar show."

"Jack agreed to come back to the show on Monday, March 7, after a three-week vacation. Bob Sarnoff and I are delighted."

NBC later announced that Paar would return on his former basis of appearances, four shows a week. In the past the fifth night's show has consisted of repeats of portions of previous programs.

Both Kintner and Sarnoff are expected back in New York Wednesday from a meeting of network affiliates at Boca Raton. Paar stopped off in Florida while on his way to a vacation at an undisclosed spot.

Paar previously had declined to meet with the executives, saying they were such persuasive men that they would induce him to rescind his decision to quit the television program.

His show went on the air Monday night without Paar but with quips from author Alexander King which brought a few gasps from the audience.

Gets Suspended Term in Attempt To Derail Train

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—One of two young men charged with attempting to derail a train in the hope of being hired to clear the wreckage has been given a three-year suspended sentence.

Judge James T. Foley of Federal District Court placed Bernard C. Buchanan, 18, of St. Johnsville, on probation Monday.

Buchanan and a companion, Anthony J. Snell, 22, of Canastota, had pleaded guilty to charges of attempting to derail a New York Central freight train by placing a steel plate across the tracks at St. Johnsville last May.

A freight struck the plate but was not derailed.

Sentencing of Snell was deferred.

In another case, two officials of a glove firm pleaded guilty to charges of violating the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Charles E. Templeton of Fonda, president of the Templeton Glove Co. Inc., is accused of failing to pay workers for overtime, falsification of work records, failure to keep records, shipment of goods made in violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act and failure to pay the $1-an-hour minimum wage.

Harry Green Sr., manager of the Templeton plant at Amsterdam, was charged with five violations of the act. The other counts involve the Templeton plant at Schenectady.

Sentencing was deferred.

Argentine Subs Not Ours, Oslo Told by Mikoyan

OSLO (AP)—Soviet First Deputy Prime Minister Anastas Mikoyan today denied that unidentified submarines reported operating in Argentine waters are Russian.

Mikoyan implied that speculation that the submarines are Russian is aimed at slandering Russia's "peace-loving" policy.

The Soviet embassy in Buenos Aires already has denied that the mystery submarine or submarines which the Argentine navy is trying to capture in a gulf on the south Argentine coast is Russian.
